POLITICAL THROATS SLIT BY HUNDREDS

'Nothing but Hot Air Issues From Wounds,' Assures Sam Blythe

By SAMUEL G. BLYTHE

(Copyright by Samuel G. Blythe)

S. G. BLYTHE at work.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 21.—Half the politicians in Chicago for the convention carried plots about with them yesterday and the other half toted counter-plots. Enough political throats were cut to make the Congress Hotel resemble shambles, had anything but hot air issued from the wounds. So far from being content with the beauties of the political cross, there were numerous experts who evolved a fancy line of work, and triple, and even quadruple, crossed friends and enemies with equal impartiality.

And strategy! One bumped into strategists at every turn. That is, it is politer to call them strategists. In other than convention times they would be called lunatics, and long before the day was done would have had the net thrown over them. Here, however, so great was the excitement that any sort of lunacy passed for inside information, and most inside information was lunatic. Every story had believers and there was a fresh story every minute.

The day began with a political temperature of 104 and worked up to 166 before the leaders had their coffee, and by nightfall there was an immense accumulation of prophets, seers, prognosticators and ordinary fools shouting misinformation until they resembled a collection of old faithful geysers, but were of even less utilitarian value.

DENIALS GROW IN CLUSTERS.

It was great. Denials to absolute air-tight information came so rapidly that it became the custom to put out the denial in advance of the story like this: "The Roosevelt headquarters at 3:07 p. m. herewith denies the story that will be put out at 4 o'clock by some ardent partisan of the Colonel." New parties were born on the hour, and new politicians gasped and fell in throes of depreciation and disgust each 15 minutes.

Every man was a leader, no man had followers. The whole reeking, roaring, raucous mass resembled the Hawaiian army, which consists of 2784 generals and one private.

They had Roosevelt leading a bolt and bolting a lead. They had the Tait men putting shot at the feet of an obese President, and dropping him silently in the lake. They had every available man and a dozen so unavailable they couldn't be elected poundsmasters, as the sure solution of the pressing problem, and when it was all over the whole aggregation of dopesters, tipsters, insiders, outsiders, seers and students of political science wiped their fevered brows and asked each other what it was all about anyhow.

It wasn't necessary for a story to be true. A fact in a circumstantial nature depreciated the worth of it about 90 per cent. All that was necessary was that a story should be told and instantly it was flying up and down the corridors and through the lobbies and hither and yon on the streets, embroidered and frilled by each person who handled it and imparted each time as the real stuff.

BATTING AVERAGES 1000 EACH.

The batting averages of these players in the Flubdub League were 1000 each. They made a hit every time they came to bat, and they were constantly at bat. Meantime a thunderstorm happened along late in the afternoon, but nobody noticed it. They thought the thunder was the deep base roar of the California delegation, which makes the terrifying threat if Roosevelt is not nominated California will secede from the Union and take the Fair out to some beautiful isle of the sea, just to get even.

It wasn't a good day for Colonel Roosevelt. Early in the morning; indeed, late the night before, it had been announced he was about to bolt and he occupied that imminent and interesting position in the yarns told all day long. The crowds seemed to think his bolting would take the form of a high dive from his window on the corner of the Boulevard and Congress street into the seething mass of people below, and they waited patiently and expectantly to observe his daring descent. Others thought it was also his intention to go up in a balloon and do a parachute act, defying the national committee as he came down, but it was pointed out that the Roosevelt folks were all up in the air anyhow, and not more than seven out of ten believed this.

There were no net results of the day; all results were gross, to say nothing of crass, and when the last high-ball was drunk and last rumor was stilled the situation, which has been inflated and

PLATFORM GENERAL IN SCOPE

Dodges Particular Measures and Makes No Mention of Pending Legislation

President Taft's Administration Praised for 'Comprehensive Dealings'

CHICAGO, June 21.—When the resolutions committee adjourned at 11 o'clock today to permit its members to attend the Republican convention the platform virtually was completed. The draft of the document read to the full membership apparently proved acceptable.

The members generally expressed satisfaction over the planks dealing with monopoly and the courts.

The platform is more concise than those of recent years. It is especially noteworthy in that it does not deal with particular measures, but rather with issues in general. No direct reference by name is made to any pending legislation.

The administration is commended and President Taft is complimented for his "comprehensive, fair and vigorous dealing with all issues." The administrations of Roosevelt and McKinley also are extolled.

Attorney for Home Telephone Company Enters Motion.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Attorneys representing the Home Telephone Company, which is practically merged with the Pacific Telephone Company, entered a motion today for the dismissal of the action brought by O. The matter will come up before Judge Taylor on June 28.

COUNCIL TAKES ACTION AGAINST HOFFMAN CAFE

W. J. Hopkins Cited to Appear to Defend His License

"Resolved, That William Hopkins, proprietor of the Hoffman Cafe, be and he is hereby directed to appear before this City Council on Tuesday, July 2, 1912, to show cause why his liquor license should not be revoked."

Passed by unanimous vote of the council on the motion of Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner.

The City Council this morning took their first step toward closing the notorious resort known as the Hoffman Cafe, run by William Hopkins at Seventh street and Broadway. The council cited Hopkins, better known in the underworld among his evil associates as "Hippie," to appear before the council to show cause why he should not have the liquor license he holds under the protection of the city withdrawn from him. The reason for such action is that "Hippie" is a man of bad moral character and not fit to hold a license from the city. It is alleged that Hopkins' tenure of the license has been for many months a rank violation of the city ordinance and an offense against public morals and decency.

AWAITS DECISION OF COURT.

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner explained to the council this morning that he had delayed placing the Hopkins scandal before the commissioners pending the rendering of the decision in the Superior Court on the felony charge filed against Hopkins by Miss Thelma Buckingham. Turner was notified by Acting Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen this morning during the session of the council that the Hopkins jury had again disagreed.

"It would seem that there could be no good end served by delaying further in this matter," said Turner after introducing the

T. R. MAKES NO CHANGE IN HIS PROGRAM

How Things Broke Today

Taft scores signal victory when convention votes down Hadley's motion to bar contested delegates from voting on their own contests. Minority reports on Alabama, Arizona and Arkansas cases defeated.

Platform virtually completed by time resolutions committee adjourns.

William J. Bryan is given another ovation when he enters convention hall.

Platform deals with measures in general and commends President Taft's administration.

Roosevelt makes no change in program; claims all leaders have endorsed schedule.

Contests reviewed up to noon include Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky and Louisiana. Two delegations being sustained by the committee.

Convention marked time for one hour and 26 minutes after scheduled opening at 11 a. m.

Gavel fell at 12:26 p. m., after it had been decided to take up credentials committee report piecemeal.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The belief was expressed by some of the leaders this afternoon that it might be possible to nominate tomorrow afternoon and wind up the convention with a late night session.

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 21.—In quick succession the Roosevelt forces suffered defeat after defeat at today's session of the Republican National Convention. The progressives lost by a vote of 569 to 499 a resolution of Governor Hadley which would have prevented any of the contested delegates voting on any cases reported by the credentials committee. This was the third defeat the Colonel's men had felt. The first vote on Temporary Chairman Root's election was 558 to 502. The second vote on Hadley's original proposal to the same effect was 566 to 510.

The minority-report on the Ninth Alabama contest was tabled and gave the Roosevelt forces their first setback today. Quickly following this the minority report in the Arizona case was tabled and the convention did likewise with the Fifth Arkansas District. In the last-named contest the vote was viva voce.

IMPORTANT TAFT GAINS.

The second roll-call today showed important Taft gains. Wisconsin giving a solid vote of 25 to the Taft side. The fourth roll-call resulted even more decisively for Taft, the result being 605 to 464. The announcement of the big Taft gain started a demonstration by the Taft people which the chairman stopped.

The Idaho delegation advised Colonel Roosevelt today that it would not follow his suggestion of remaining silent in the convention and refusing to vote.

Alonzo R. Cruzen, chairman of the delegation, declared such action would be practically bolting.

"We are not bolters," said Cruzen, "but Republicans, and for us not to answer to our names when the roll is called would be simply bolting. I gave Colonel Roosevelt to understand that Idaho's delegates were thorough Republicans and would not follow any third party or candidate."

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE STRUGGLES WITH CONTESTS

Ninth Alabama District First Considered
When Chairman Root Calls Convention to Order

OF THE ANARCHISTIC TALK I HAVE HEARD IN MANY OF THE ROOSEVELT CAUCUSES; IT IS UNPatriotic AND UNAMERICAN."

The test came soon after the convention had been called to order by Chairman Root, more than an hour after scheduled time. There were few thrills to add to the session's list of excitements. Demonstrations lacked vigor and two efforts to "start something" for directory at all, failed.

William J. Bryan, alone, was honored with a mild ovation, to which he merely bowed, stretching the cleft in his determined gaw to the limits of a smile. Up in the gallery a handsomely-gowned woman broke the monotony with a song, but that was about all the music heard outside of what the band tried to blast forth.

HAIL SLOWLY FILLS.

With the knowledge that the committee on credentials had not nearly completed its work, delegates to the Republican national convention were slow to move toward the Coliseum this morning for the session scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Up to 10:45 o'clock only a handful of delegates were in their seats but from that time on they poured in.

Conflicting reports had gone abroad as to the intention of the leaders. It was variously rumored that there cess units those alone who submit to Thy control and do Thy will, the God whom our fat and lively and serviceable trusted. Our God, almighty by birthright and tradition only, but much more by choice and allegiance, we acknowledge and adore. Thee is the King, eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, whose favor is life and whose loving kind is death. Life, to us, is the gift of Thee. The mortal resides in time past to this our beloved land, and, conscious of our profound need of Thee, we reverently invoke Thy gracious presence and benediction upon our great Republic.

We confess before Thee at this time our national sins as well as those which we may have personally committed—our forgetfulness of Thee and Thy commandments, our inordinate love of the seen and transient, our passion for luxury, and our alienation of the temporal into the place of honor and dominion.

Forgive this Thy people, most merciful God, and in Thy great love restore us. Thy favor and unto us the joys of Thy salvation, defending us by Thy almighty power and upholding us by Thy spirit.

Set righteousness in command, we beseech Thee, throughout our nation. Take from us all national pride and out-corrupt, all baseness of wealth and power, debasing us from the pure Grant our deliverance from war and its tempests, from strife and worldling, from commercial dishonesty, social impurity, and political corruption.

MRS. I. W. BLANEY.

MRS. I. W. BLANEY.

At 11:20 word came from the credentials committee that opposition to a partial report had arisen. Chairman Root made no effort to call the convention to order.

From then on there was a succession of wild demonstrations. The Roosevelt men in the Pennsylvania delegation had a new cry, the refrain of which was "Sixty-five Roosevelt," referring to 65 delegates led by William Flynn of Pennsylvania.

AGAIN WELCOMED.

William J. Bryan was given another noisy welcome as he entered the press stand. Some 200 delegates called, "Speech, speech, Bryan," and the band played "Should Auld Acquaintances Be Forgot?"

Bryan smiled and waved his hand. He made no speech. He said today that he would start for Baltimore tomorrow morning.

In the full the New Jersey delegates rose in their seats and delivered the Jersey yell that has become famous and familiar in the convention. West Virginia answered Jersey and the shrill shriek of the Californians joined in for a time. But the demonstration did not develop and the yell subsided.

The Roosevelt delegates from Massachusetts came out with their Roosevelt yell announcing their 18 votes for Roosevelt. They brought New Jersey, West Virginia and California back to their feet and there was another attempt to start a demonstration. Again it subsided and the crowd settled back to await the fall of the gavel.

The Pennsylvania delegation also brought out a new yell,

It was:

"Ray, ray, ray."

"Pennsylvania."

"Sixty-five Roosevelt."

James E. Watson, Governor Hadley, Senator Borah, former Governor Ford of New Jersey and the other leaders of both factions sat idly on the platform.

When word finally came from the credentials committee that the Alabama case was to be submitted to the convention, Senator Root prepared to call the convention to order.

"Play ball," shouted a man in the gallery. The gavel fell at 12:38 and prayer was offered by the Rev. Joseph Balcom Shaw of the Second Presbyterian church of Chicago.

DR. SHAW'S PRAYER

Rev. Dr. Shaw's prayer was as follows:

"O God, the Supreme and Sovereign Ruler of the Universe, Who holdst sway alike over the lives of men and the affairs of nations, decreeing abiding success to a recess until 8 p.m., an adjournment until tomorrow, or that the convention would proceed to consider at once such contested cases as the committee had decided at the convention house."

It was expected the Roosevelt forces would make their last big fight in the convention today. They had expected to make their stand on the credentials report as a whole but they were prepared to meet the change of plans and fight all the way through on the individual cases.

The galleries filled up very slowly and 10 minutes after the scheduled time for calling the convention to order hundreds of chairs were vacant.

CHEER PRETTY SINGER.

High above the noise from shifting feet and shifting chairs through out the big auditorium rang out a fair's arias over the lives of men and the affairs of nations, decreeing abiding sucresolution. "This man is unquestionably a man of poor moral character. His place is one of the places I reported to this council as objectionable some months ago. I move Hopkins be brought before the council."

MAYOR AGREES WITH TURNER.

Turner suggested that Hopkins should come before the council next Tuesday morning. Mayor Mott concurred in Turner's estimate of "Hoppy" as a man unfit to hold a license, and suggested that the full council should be in session when the matter was taken up. Mayor Mott explained that he was leaving today to be out of town for a week, and asked that the hearing should be set for a date when he could be present. July 2 was set for the hearing at the request of Mayor Mott.

Hopkins will probably be represented at the council session by his attorneys, but members of the commission declare that he will be forced to answer the question as to his conduct of the Howard Hotel in person. The various charges against him will be gone into, from the grand larceny on which he is now being tried to the complaint of a 17-year-old girl, to the notorious association in which he lived with a woman of the underworld, passing himself off as his wife.

Hopkins has said that it is nobody's business whether his moral character is reprehensible, but the ordinance concerning liquor traffic in San Francisco demands that a man shall be of good moral character before he shall enjoy privileges conferred by the city.

Hopkins will also inquire as to the manner in which "Hoppy" has conducted his place. The commissioners will ask concerning the room upstairs, and the private hidden stairway connecting the dining-room with the upper story of the structure. San Francisco says never has been used after hours will also be asked, and the well-known fact that the Hoffman is a gathering place for gamblers and the notorious tribe of prostitutes connected with the "red-light" district.

Turner can explain reasonably that his connection with Hoffman is one of innocence and virtue, he will be permitted to do so in the eyes of the council. Hoffman will be purged of a plague spot and will be allowed to live for long.

Confer on us merit and more with our high responsibility, and enable us, in faithfulness to the truth which Thou has committed unto us, to be Thy consistent representative among the nations of the earth, the agency in The hands of bringing the Kingdom of God into the fulfillment of its mission in the world.

"And now as here gathered in national assembly, we, the representatives of an honorable and historic organization, the deputies of the people, and the servants of the King, shall seek to conserve the future good of our nation, and plan for its advancing honor and prosperity, so guide Thou our deliberations and shape our decisions, so surcharge this convention with Thy peace, so convey to us the knowledge of Thy far-sighted and far-seeing wisdom, and grant us so fully of Thy Holy Spirit, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, of concert and brotherhood, of purity and humility, that true to Thy standards, honoring Thy name and desiring Thy glory, we may at this point in our history, and in this place, claim in time to come the seal of Thine approval and the furtherance of Thine help. And unto Thee, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, one, God, blessed forevermore, that he is the power, dominion and glory through Jesus Christ. This is the only begotten Son and our advocate, who intercedes for us before the world without end. Amen."

ALABAMA CASE FIRST.

When Dr. Shaw had concluded Senator Root said:

"The business in order is the report on credit."

He introduced W. T. Dowell of Washington, a member of the committee, who submitted the report favoring the seating of the Taft delegates in the Ninth district in Alabama. Rep. H. C. Smith of Illinois, a Roosevelt leader, was on his feet calling for recognition.

Chairman Root, however, directed the reading of the report which went into details of the contest, and said that a full hearing had been granted by the committee.

R. R. McCormick said the majority report had been "sprung upon" the minority in the committee without time for a proper report of the minority. "He said he hoped there would be opportunity later for a proper presentation of the facts in the case."

"While strict, speaking, there can be no such thing as a minority resolving a question, and grant us outburst of groans, boos and hisses.

Root pounded vigorously for order and when quiet was restored he walked defiantly to the front of the stage.

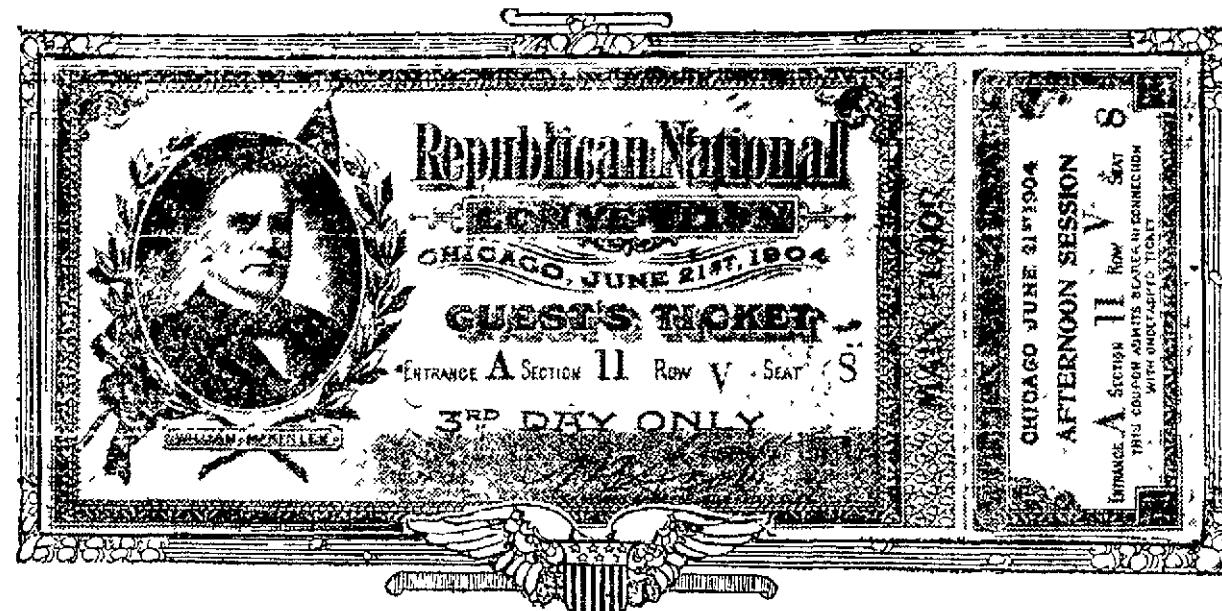

"Gentlemen of the convention," he shouted. "It would be well when the chairman begins a sentence to wait until he concludes it."

GREETED WITH APPLAUSE.

This statement was greeted with applause. Senator Root then concluded by saying it was customary for the minority to present its views to the convention informally and this custom would be followed. He directed that the views of the minority, as presented by McCormick, be read for the information of the convention. The minor segment was read. It protested that J. C. McLean of Arizona, G. W. Vanek of Texas and W. T. Dowell of Washington had no right to vote because they had been elected by delegates whose seats were contested.

The report protested also against the seating on the credentials committee of five members who had been members of the national committee, because they had already passed on the contests. In conclusion, it recommended the seating of the Roosevelt delegates from the Ninth district.

WOULD SUBSTITUTE.

Governor Hadley moved that the minority report be substituted for the majority. Henry of California seconded the motion. An unidentified delegate moved to lay the motion on the table. Dowell, from the committee, asked and secured unanimous consent to make a five-minute statement. The delegates listened somewhat impatiently as if they already had made up their minds and were anxious to vote.

Chairman Root announced that it was Robert J. Walker, a Virginia delegate, who had made the motion to lay on the table, but had withdrawn it at the request of his delegation to allow Governor Hadley to make a motion which otherwise would have been excluded under the rules.

When Governor Hadley was recognized for the motion he was cheered. He began to talk from the floor, but Root, quieting the demonstration, said:

"It is the evident wish of the convention that you should take the platform."

STORM OF APPLAUSE.

A storm of applause broke out as Hadley started up the aisle.

After he got to the platform Governor Hadley made his motion, which was a renewal of the fight to keep all contested delegates from voting. He sought to bar 72 delegates from casting their ballots until such time as their cases had been settled. The original flat contained 92 cases presented Monday. On Tuesday it was down to 78. Today it was 72.

Julius Wadsworth Jr. of New York made a point of order against Hadley's motion, contending that in effect it entertained by the chair at this time would establish rules for the convention before the committee on rules had an opportunity to consider the matter. He said the motion would reverse the ruling made by the chair when the resolution was first produced on Tuesday.

ENTERTAINS MOTION.

Root, advancing to the front of the stage, said the parliamentary argument would support the point of order.

"But," he continued, "it is so to the general interest of the Republican party that it should be passed on and settled by this convention that the chair therefore will entertain the motion."

James E. Watson of Indiana, the chief floor leader, was loudly cheered as he moved to lay the motion of Governor Hadley on the table. A roll-call was demanded and seconded. It was ordered.

Henry interrupted the roll-call, demanding to know if the 72 contested delegates were to be allowed to vote

PULL OUT A HAIR

The Way to Tell Whether or Not Your Hair Is Diseased

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. Ninety-eight per cent of the people need a hair tonic. You can make a test yourself that you can see and understand, which will tell you whether your hair is healthy or not.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shriveled, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided.

If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it will not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and eradicate baldness.

Out of 100 cases where it was given a thorough conditioning test, it grew hair on 83 heads, which should be sufficient proof that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic contains extraordinary remedial and hair-growing qualities. It is because of our knowledge of this preparation and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk.

He was treated at the Receiving Hospital by Steward Platt. Braswell is 65 years old. He said that the bird sprung at him repeatedly while he was handling the hen and he received other scratches on his face. The victim declared that he would have the rooster for next Sunday's dinner.

DEMANDS ROLL CALL.

The motion to table the motion of Governor Hadley to submit the minority report for the majority report in the Alabama cases then was put, and Hadley demanded another roll call.

There was a lively debate precipitated on a motion by Summers of Virginia to submit to the convention its report on the Alabama contests.

Heney moved an adjournment for 30 minutes to enable the minority to prepare a report to the convention.

The motion was defeated 28 to 16.

"We will fight this out on the floor of the convention," shouted Heney.

A motion by Lauver of North Dakota, granting time for the preparation of minority reports to accompany all majority reports submitted to the convention was tabled 33 to 23.

GEORGIA FOR TAFT.

On both roll calls, the Georgia delegation today voted solidly for Taft. It had been decided 24 to 10 to Idaho, voting solidly for Roosevelt on all previous questions changed to the Taft column on this call. Oregon divided 4 to 5 to 5 on the first call went 6 to 4 in favor of the Taft proposition on the second. Wisconsin shifted completely on the second call, voting with the Taft people to table the minority report. The vote was 605 to 484 this time, and the big Taft victory called out a cheer.

F. J. Heney took the platform for the minority. Heney was constantly interrupted by applause, cheers, hisses and points of order. In ruling on the first one Chairman Root said:

"In the opinion of the chair, the gentleman is not yet over the line where he should be called to order."

Governor McGovern stated that the change in Wisconsin's vote was due to the fact that Wisconsin members of the national committee and of the committee on credentials had sustained the contested delegates. A similar explanation was made on behalf of Idaho.

Another report was expected in a few minutes. At 2:25 p. m. Root said the convention for a time would "rest arms."

During the intermission Bryan passed down to the rear of the hall with Governor Warmouth of Louisiana to meet Mrs. Warmouth. He was cheered all the way and the band played "I Always Dream of Bill."

The convention was called to order again at 2:45 p. m. Dowell of Washington presented the report of the credentials committee sustaining the Taft delegates from Arizona and moved its adoption.

Sullivan moved to substitute the minority for the majority report. Watson moved to table. The roll was called by state and the minority report was defeated by a vote of yeas 564, nays 497.

MAJORITY REPORT ADOPTED.

The majority report was adopted by a viva voce vote. The Fifth Arkansas district report in favor of the Taft delegates was not voting. The Fifth Arkansas district report in favor of the Taft delegates was taken up, Governor Hadley presenting the minority's dissent.

Watson, as usual, moved to table the minority report. It was carried viva voce. The majority report was adopted.

The absence of a roll call allowed the convention to catch up with the committee's report and another intermission took place at 3:38 p. m.

When, at 3:57, Root called for order, the California Fourth district was presented by Dowell. The majority report recommended seating Tryon and Meyerfeld, the Taft delegates. Halbert of Minnesota presented the minority report in this case.

Watson proposed to lay on the table the motion to substitute the minority for the majority report. There was much confusion. Watson

CALIFORNIANS LEAD IN FIGHT

Progressives Lose at Every Turn in Battle in Convention.

committee was still in session and Chairman Devine said there seemed to be no prospect of presenting a report to the convention, which was to meet at 11 o'clock. In the Seventh Kentucky district the Taft delegates were seated, 27 to 8. The Eighth district contest was then taken up.

Francis J. Heney of California, Ralph A. Huyett of Kansas, E. Carrington of Maryland, R. McCormick of Illinois, and John J. Sullivan of Ohio, Roosevelt adherents, were absent when the California vote was taken. Daylight found the credentials committee room and hallways in the Coliseum annex partly filled with sleeping or nodding committee members and contesting delegates. More than 40 of the 52 members stuck to the work throughout the night.

The committee worked far into the morning over the Indiana contest for delegates-at-large, while four Senators Beveridge and Hammonway were pitted against each other. The committee seated the Taft delegates-at-large—Charles W. Fairbanks, Harry S. New, James E. Watson and Joseph Dolliver—34 to 11. Bitterness marked the arguments.

In the Thirteenth Indiana district, which was included in the list of contests which Colonel Roosevelt said had been unfairly decided against him by the national committee, Senator Beveridge again appeared as counsel. The Taft delegates were seated, a motion being defeated 57 to 13.

As the morning advanced efforts were made to stop the limitless argument that had characterized the Alabama and Arkansas contests. Roosevelt members objected to the shortening of the time limit, but agreed to help in enforcing the existing rules.

An observation by Halbert of Minnesota at 4 o'clock in the morning that "facts do not go in this committee" precipitated a bitter interchange of remarks.

Members jumped to their feet and demanded that Halbert apologize.

"The voters speak for themselves," said Halbert.

Chairman Devine called upon Halbert to observe order.

The committee voted to seat the Taft delegates from the Eighth Kentucky district, 22 to 7. The vote was on a substitute for a motion giving the Roosevelt delegates title to the contested seats. The Eleventh Kentucky district, Taft contestants from which had been seated by the national committee, was called.

Congressman George R. Malby, New York member of the credentials committee, said the report that the report would be presented to the convention until the last contest had been decided. If the Roosevelt men, he said, demanded a roll call on every contest, the committee could not finish its work before Saturday night and the report would not be presented to the convention before Monday. Under these conditions, he said, the convention could not complete its work and adjourn until Wednesday or next week.

Chairman Devine said, however, that if the Roosevelt members would confine their attacks to those districts included in the list on which they have based their principal charges of fraud, including the Washington and Texas cases, the committee would be able to conclude before tonight. The widest latitude will be allowed the Roosevelt members, said the chairman, and the duration of the session depended entirely on their attitude.

The Eleventh Kentucky district, which was next called, presented a mixed situation. The national committee had divided delegations and sent C. E. Edwards, a Taft delegate, and O. H. Waddell, a Roosevelt adherent. The representatives of each faction, appearing before the credentials committee, sought to win back the seat given to the other.

CONFIRM FIRST VOTE.

By a vote of 26 to 15 the committee confirmed the action of the national committee in the Eleventh Kentucky district contest. The vote was on a substitute motion by Committee-man Mondell of Wyoming to seat both Roosevelt delegates.

A good many decided not to bolt, to turn a deaf ear to the

'May Serve Useful Purpose in Bluffing for Time, but Never Wins'

deflated nine million times, was still a situation, and that is all that can be said of it.

SOME KIND OF COMPROMISE.

The favorable line of talk was compromise. It seemed to those present that a compromise was necessary. Nobody cared what sort of a compromise, but all insisted on some kind. The Hadley men thought the only compromise that would be acceptable was a compromise on Hadley. Hughes had his compromise force, but when the day was done most of the gentlemen mentioned were compromised instead of compromised.

The insanity was highly contagious, but not everybody caught it. There were a few persons who insisted this convention can do nothing else than nominate Taft, holding the view that inasmuch as it has been clearly proved this is a Taft convention, that Taft men are in control, or men who pose as Taft men, they must go ahead and name Taft or lose everything they have been fighting for. They said the main object of the meeting has been to beat Roosevelt, and they pointed with more or less pride to the fact that Roosevelt is beaten. They said as Taft was clearly the winner, it is the duty of the Taft winners to win with Taft and not put up somebody else.

The old argument was made that to name Taft is to lose, but there is a group of men who will have a lot to say in the future proceedings of this convention who favor orderly procedure and regularity. It was pointed out by these men that in all well-regulated drownings the victim goes down three times, and they were of the opinion that if they were going to drown anyhow in November, it would be well to drown in the accepted manner, decently and in order. Moreover, it was pointed out that to name a half or three-quarters radical or progressive on the kind of a platform this convention will adopt would be laughed at.

These same men insisted that the present is the closed season for fooling the people and that it is far better to put up Taft, make his campaign, take what is coming, which, in either event, is felt will be ample sufficient to suit the most fastidious. "What else can we do?" they asked, and after listening to the shouts of Cummings and Borah, and Hughes and Hadley and L. Y. Sherman, and such others as had limped into the limelight, the answer that was returned invariably was, "Not a durned thing."

DESIRE IS NOT WARM ONE.

Far be it from any person to assert there is any warm desire on the part of the Taft men to nominate their idol—Taft—and subject him to the strain of another campaign. The true mark of an ardent Taft manager is that he despises Taft, but there is the grand old party and the grand old politicians of the grand old party, and the organization and all that. Further, it would be hideous to repudiate a Republican administration in this way, especially as, to their gratified astonishment, the Taft leaders are in control. The Taft leaders were not heinous. Nobody can say that of them. They may be cold-footed, but they are not heinous. Hence Mr. Taft ruled firm to strong throughout the day.

As to conferences, there were 267,483 conferences within the 24 hours, excluding those held at the various bars. The conclusion at the end of each conference was that each conference was inconclusive. So far as the totals were concerned, the Roosevelt conferences were in greatest number, which is not remarkable, inasmuch as the Roosevelt leaders had most to talk about and, without doubt, better talking facilities. Still the others conferred frequently enough for all purposes, and so many lines of procedure were mapped out that no one was able to proceed.

Indeed, the entire assemblage spent its time in giving imitations of the gyroscope, which spins on its own axis unceasingly, emitting loud, buzzing or purring noises; which, in hotel lobbies and political headquarters, in these exciting times passed for wisdom and information.

Still, all was not hectic and fevered. Some of the delegates to this convention passed uncomfortable, shivery hours contemplating the prospect of bolting with the Colonel when he issued his clarion call. Some of them had bolted before and they knew what it meant. Before these patriots arose the memories of Fred Dubois and Henry Teller, and Pettigrew and Charley Towne and others who bolted in 1896 and have rarely emerged from the high grass since that time.

LIKE SMALL PAIR IN BIG GAME.

A bolt is like a small pair in a big game. It may serve a useful purpose in bluffing for a time, but it is of little value when called. They love the Colonel, but gee-whiz, a man cannot be expected to sacrifice all his political prospects for the Colonel, even when complicated with a cause.

A good many decided not to bolt, to turn a deaf ear to the clarion call, to sit firmly in their seats when the cry came to beat it to the other hall. Not so Hiram Johnson and Francis J. Heney of California—not so with them. They bolted every 20 minutes by the clock, bolted, rebolted and were unbolted, and a pleasant time was had at the California headquarters.

There was one consensus of opinion, only one. No, another consensus was working. This one was that Colonel Roosevelt did himself no good and considerable harm by loping into the city last Sunday and would be in better case had he spent those days in chopping down trees at Oyster Bay. Moreover, it is now apparent that the Colonel's strategy board was off watch early in the proceedings. His mistake was to allow the question of selecting Mr. Root as temporary chairman to go to vote at all. That was the time to bolt, for before the convention Roosevelt's position as to regularity was as good as Taft's position, inasmuch as no convention had been organized. Once Root was elected and the convention organized and in control of the Taft men, Taft was regular, and anything Roosevelt could do was bound to be irregular.

However, what is a little irregularity among friends. These are epochal times. Indeed, the times are echoing regularly six to the hour. Still it must be remembered that this convention, in itself, does not necessarily mean chaos forthwith would ensue. It is not the end of things. There will be an election day come next November, and the old guard, having a slender hold, intends to do what seems advisable, which, as this is written, means nominate Mr. Taft pending that contingency, and to all and sundry this bit of political wisdom is intended.

The steam-roller is still working at the old stand· likewise the aforesaid delegates.

PERPETUATE OLD 'STEAM ROLLER'

COMPROMISE MAN SOUGHT, HE SAYS

Two Radical Changes Made by Rules Committee of Convention.

Dixon Declares Barnes, Penrose and Crane do Not Want Taft.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Perpetuation of the "steam roller" so far as the national committee of the Republican party is concerned, and recognition of the direct primary plan of electing members of the committee, were the two radical and apparently contradictory changes made yesterday in the rules governing the national committee by the rules committee of the convention.

The Roosevelt members of the committee did not oppose either. They will, however, introduce a minority report to the convention insisting on a reduction of Southern representation in the convention and upon the right of the states to elect their own national committee.

"They are looking for new man," said Senator Dixon. "They have made a martyr out of Roosevelt and when you make a martyr out of a man, he wins." "In four or five years there will be no national committee," said Colonel Roosevelt in his speech to the delegates last night. "All states will have preferential primaries and the people will decide whom they want for their candidate."

"The statement is made that ten instructed Taft delegates from one state had offered to vote for Hughes, that proposition had been made from the Taft managers to friends of Senator Cummins and that Governor Hadley had been approached with offers to sacrifice Taft if he would accept the nomination.

"They are looking for new man," said Senator Dixon. "They have made a martyr out of Roosevelt and when you make a martyr out of a man, he wins."

"In four or five years there will be no national committee," said Colonel Roosevelt in his speech to the delegates last night. "All states will have preferential primaries and the people will decide whom they want for their candidate."

WM. J. CONNORS SAILS INTO CITY

Democratic Leader Arrives on Yacht; Meets Bryan First.

CHICAGO, June 21.—William J. Connors, the Buffalo Democratic leader, has the distinction of being the only convention visitor to come to Chicago in a private yacht.

"I sailed into the river," said Connors last night, "and had I thought for a minute I could just as well have sailed on down to Fourteenth street and tied up opposite the Coliseum. I made better time, though, by sailing down in a taxi."

One of the first men met by Connors when he reached the Coliseum was William Jennings Bryan.

"What's the matter?" asked Connors, "foreclosing the Democrats for the Republicans?"

"Not yet," answered Bryan, "just doing some newspaper reporting."

"Going to Baltimore?"

"Yup."

"Goin' to be a reporter there, too?"

"Not me; be too busy otherwise."

"Well, I'm here for newspaper work, too—but not doing much of it myself. Goodbye."

"The law is a disgrace and some day we will wipe it off our statute books."

"MORE BOSSY BOSSES."

Governor Carroll, of Iowa, said the only difference between the old system in Iowa and the new primary plan was that the present leaders were "more bossy bosses" than their predecessors.

Exra Elliott, of Colorado, was equally vigorous in his attack on the primary system, but he found time to put in a good word for woman suffrage.

It was denied emphatically that the changes were made to throw a sop to the so-called "progressive" states.

"The national committee realized that it was proceeding with rules that were not official," explained D. J. Lake, of Connecticut. "As a result it named a sub-committee several months ago to consider necessary changes, long before the present controversy in the convention was foreseen. Therefore the changes are non-partisan."

Marshal Stimson of California sought in vain to commit the committee to the proposition of permitting the states to dictate the manner in which they should elect their representatives on the national committee. He submitted three amendments to this effect, all of similar tenor, and each was voted down as it was offered.

The rules as adopted will govern the present convention, but the change in that section of the rules affecting the national committee will not become effective until the new committee is named by the convention.

Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphia, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Drugs are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which is potentially dangerous produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The name and some of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. ## ROOSEVELT CAMP DIVIDED IN TWO

New Party Is in Process of Birth, Says G. A. Record of New Jersey.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The Roosevelt camp gradually has divided into two groups," said George L. Record of New Jersey last night. "A new party is in the process of birth. As to the immediate steps to be taken to usher in the new party there are almost as many opinions as there are men. In the inner councils of the Roosevelt camp two groups are forming.

"One group is satisfied to beat Taft and have more progressive candidate nominated. The second group believes that the settled side of Roosevelt would in itself carry the primaries and in itself be a victory for the progressives and their handpuppets. If a compromise ticket is the outcome we must wait other times and other conditions to shape the new movement. If Roosevelt takes the field as a candidate, under whatever party name, the new party is born."

REGULAR NOMINATION.

William Allen White of Kansas, a Roosevelt adherent, said: "Broadly speaking, those who are interested in politics at home—men like Stubbs, Bristow and Allen of Kansas, Governor Aldrich of Nebraska, Hadley of Missouri, Glasscock of West Virginia, the men from the Dakotas and Minnesota, Dooneen of Illinois—are for making the nomination regular. They already have captured the Republican organizations in their states and they have an active effective party that is as progressive as any new party could be. They have no wish to scuttle it. They desire Roosevelt's nomination to come regularly."

"On the other hand, men like Garfield, Pinchot, Medill McCormick, Beveridge, the Massachusetts contingent and most of the New Englanders, excepting Governor Bass, do not control their party organizations at home and will do better fighting outside the party. The two classes of men here represent the extremes of opinion in the Colonel's councils. There are intermediary views and conflicting views."

While leaders of the Roosevelt forces were hastening in and out of the executive suite just now, Colonel Roosevelt himself was in seclusion. His secretary said that he was in his room with Mrs. Roosevelt and that he did not know whether the Colonel was to see his leaders.

DENIES RUMOR.

A report that Colonel Roosevelt would leave for New York today was passed among the crowds, but his secretary said there was no foundation for it.

"Absolutely no bolt" was the declaration of scores of delegates and leaders of the Roosevelt forces when they left the night caucus, which Colonel Roosevelt addressed briefly.

"We will go into the convention and fight it out and in the end Colonel Roosevelt will be nominated," said Governor Stubbs of Kansas after the night caucus was over.

"Governor Stubbs is right," said Alexander P. Morris of Pittsburgh, friend and adviser of the Colonel. "There will be no bolt in this convention."

'Controlling' the Selection of Electors.

It will doubtless surprise many Republicans to learn that the Legislature has provided for the nomination of Presidential electors by the legislative nominees of the respective parties, and also provided, whether intentionally or not, a way by which a Republican electoral ticket opposed to the nominee of the Republican national convention can be nominated in this State. In view of the resolution of the California delegation to withdraw from the Chicago convention, this extraordinary provision of law is significant. It is of a piece with the Presidential primary law, which was designed to impose the unit rule on the Republicans of California in defiance of the rule governing representation in Republican national conventions, and was drawn with the plain intent to keep the selection of Presidential electors within the control of the State machine. At the extra session of 1911 the Political Code was amended to read as follows:

"Section 24, 1—Party conventions of delegates chosen as hereinafter provided may be held in this State, or any political subdivision thereof, for the purpose of promulgating platforms and transacting such other business of the party as is not inconsistent with the provisions of this act."

"2—The candidates for State officers, if any, except judicial and school officers, and the candidates for Senate and Assembly nominated by each political party at the primary election, and State Senators of such political party whose term of office extends beyond the first Monday in January of the year next ensuing, shall meet at the state capitol at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the fourth Tuesday of September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to the general November election. They shall forthwith formulate the State platforms of their party, which said State platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the following Thursday. They shall also proceed to elect a State Central Committee to consist of at least three (3) members from each Congressional District, who shall hold office until a new State Central Committee shall have been selected.

"In each bissextile or leap year they shall also nominate as the candidates of their party as many electors of President and Vice-President of the United States as the State is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots at the ensuing November election."

Therefore the Republican electors will be nominated this year by the Republican nominees for the Legislature, since no State officers are to be nominated. It follows that an electoral ticket nominally Republican, but actually hostile to the Republican nominee for President may be put in the field. This, of course, would prevent any other Republican electoral ticket going on the ballot.

The Chronicle treats the cities of the eastern shore as if they were already annexed to San Francisco. In speaking of the growth of business and population it includes Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond in the statistics of San Francisco. It says they are really a part of San Francisco. It should say the better part. An examination of the returns of the Federal census of 1910 will explain the Chronicle's efforts to create the impression abroad that San Francisco takes in the cities of the eastern shore. The growth in population, manufacturing and commerce on this side of the bay has so greatly outstripped the growth on the peninsula that our contemporary shrinks from comparison. It will not print the statistics severally, but lumps the statistics of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond with those of San Francisco, like the man who counted his neighbors' chickens as his own.

The accepted design for San Francisco's new city hall was drawn by an Oakland firm of architects, Messrs. Bakewell & Browne. Both reside on this side of the bay, although their offices are in San Francisco. They got the second prize in the competition for the Oakland city hall design, but Commissioner Anderson did not deem either of them competent to supervise the plans for Oakland's new school buildings.

A Plot of the Schoolbook Ring.

It is to be noted that the same group of teachers who have proposed an obnoxious substitute for the Shanahan free textbook amendment are also opposed to abolishing the poll-tax.

There is no visible connection between the text-book amendment and the proposal to abolish the poll-tax, but it is a coincidence that the same men should be opposed to an act of justice in both cases. The so-called teachers' substitute would not only defeat the purpose of the Shanahan amendment, but would destroy uniformity in the schools.

Moreover, it will restore the evil ascendancy the combine of text-book publishers once exercised over the county boards of education; also a return to the old system of corrupting county superintendents and county boards and cinching the parents of school children. Instead of providing free text-books for grammar school pupils, which is the purpose of the Shanahan amendment, the group of teachers who follow Mark Keppel of Los Angeles propose that each county shall select its own series of text-books and make parents pay for them.

The proposition is to destroy uniformity that our system of primary education may once more be placed under the domination of a combine of private publishers. The usefulness of the schools is attacked by Professor Keppel and his associates in the interest of a private monopoly. Free text-books mean uniformity. They also mean relief from the grafting, corruption and extortions of the ring of schoolbook publishers, who are the real persons behind the teachers' substitute.

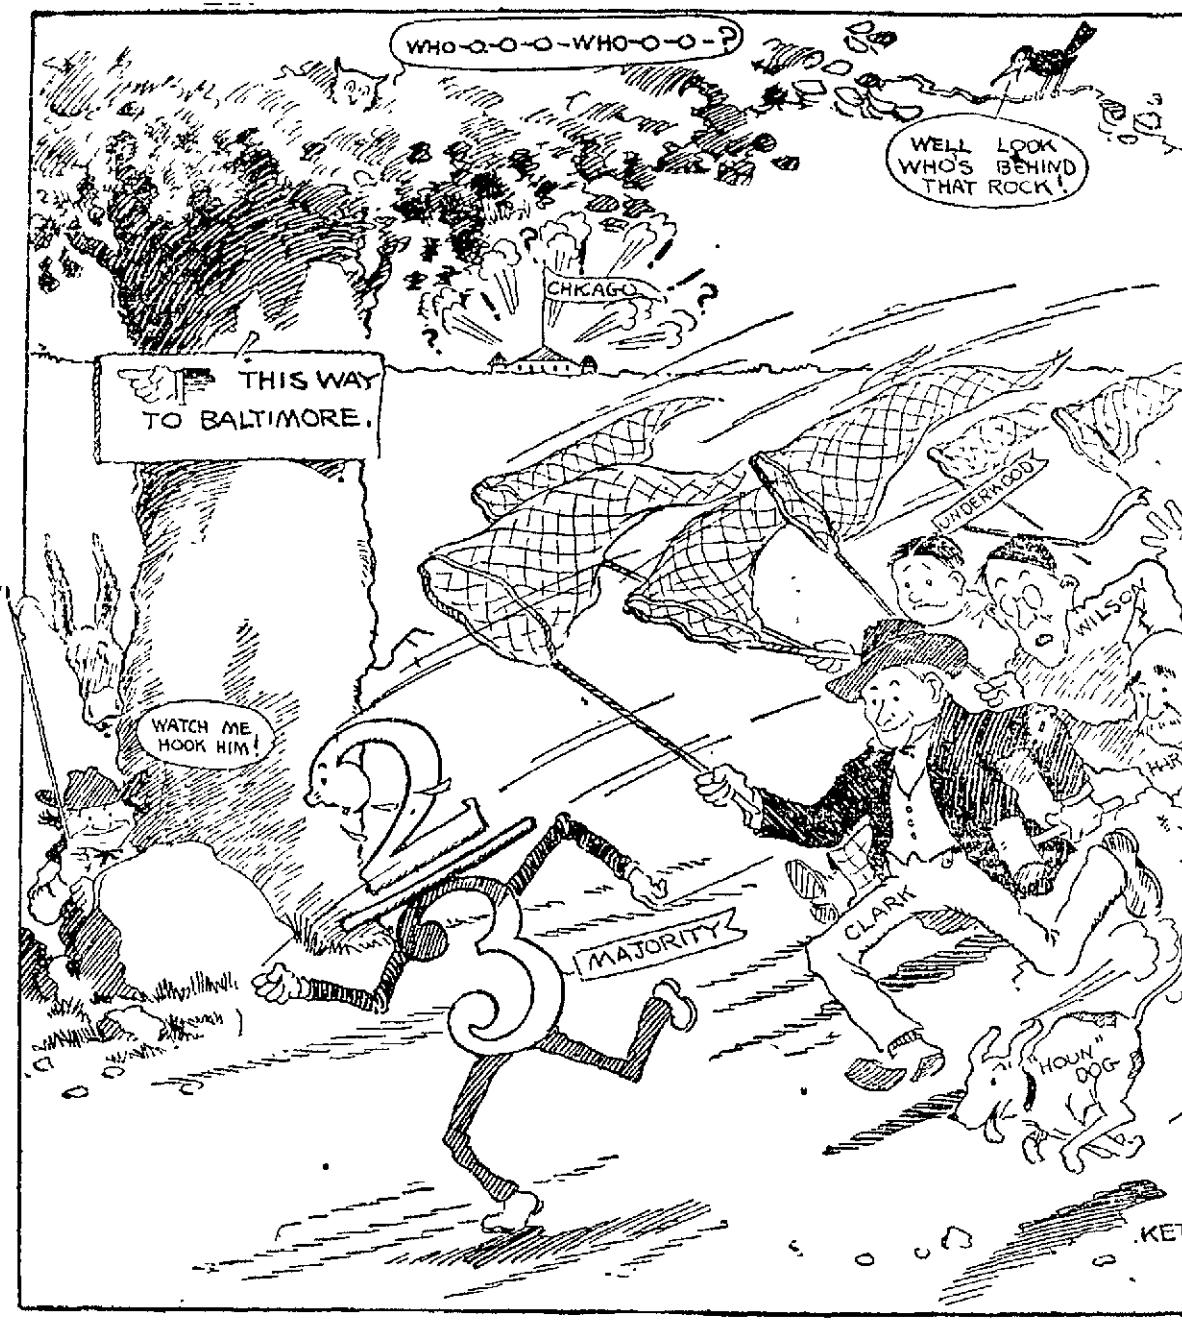

It is the hand of Esau but the voice of Jacob. Mark Keppel and his noble band do not want free text-books because free text-books will put it out of the power of the publishers to put up jobs in the county boards of education and cinch the parents of school children.

"AND IN THE MEANTIME--"

"I have no doubt that the Californian did see the distress signals; that they were the signals from the Titanic and that the Californian ought to have made efforts to get to the Titanic."

This is the statement of Lord Mersey, president of the British court of inquiry, that is investigating the loss of the Titanic. Lord Mersey has reached the same conclusion that the Senate committee reached. It convicts the captain of the Californian of ignoring distress signals at sea and allowing a vessel in plain sight to founder without making any effort to render assistance. It follows that he is responsible for the loss of hundreds of lives. Had he gone to the assistance of the Titanic in all probability not a single life would have been lost.

But he did not even answer the signals of distress. He did not have his wireless operator inquire what was the matter, but went to bed and let a ship in sight sink and her crew and passengers drown in an icy sea.

Captain Lord has never offered any reasonable excuse for his conduct. He did not tell the truth to the Senate committee nor to the British court of inquiry. His testimony was contradicted by his own officers and crew and by every known fact relative to the affair. He was within a few miles of the Titanic when she struck and was lying to because of the ice. The distress signals sent up by the Titanic and the lights of the sinking steamer were plainly visible from the decks of the Californian, but he moved not a finger. After he retired one of his officers informed him that the strange vessel was flying distress signals, but he said, "never mind," turned over and went to sleep again.

What should be done with such a man? The law may not be able to inflict any adequate punishment, but at any rate he should be deprived of his master's license and never again be permitted to command a ship. His callous negligence has loaded his soul with wholesale murder.

At the start the Colonel took the position that any convention which refused to nominate him would be fraudulent or false to its mandate. He threw his hat in the ring, he said, because the people demanded that he take the Presidency for a third term, hence a refusal to nominate him was tantamount to defying the people and disobeying their express commands. Thus the Colonel assumed to speak for the people when he became a candidate, and he now gives orders to the Chicago convention in the name of the people.

The Enquirer says it was enabled to announce the election of Root as temporary chairman of the Chicago convention before the roll-call was half finished because of its "superior news facilities." Its superior news facilities consist of a "grape-vine" special wire and a charter membership in the Ananias Club. These facilities enable it to give an account of events before they happen and which sometimes never happen. At 3 o'clock the Enquirer was out on the street with the announcement that Root was elected, and the roll-call was not finished till after 6 o'clock. Allowing for the difference in time, the Enquirer beat the roll-call by more than an hour.

The Colonel has discovered that a bolting leader is ridiculous unless he has a bolting following sufficiently large to make his defection formidable and imposing.

Nobody can truthfully say the Hon. Theodore A. Bell is a backward man in politics. He is no modest, shrinking violet when it comes to saying what he wants. He goes to Baltimore as the chairman of the California delegation, and he wants to be chairman of the convention; he also wants the nomination for Vice-President and a few other things. Above all, he wants to make a speech.

Roosevelt hit it about right when he referred to Francis J. Heney as the "wild ass from the desert," although he was somewhat unjust to the ordinary ass.

Sam G. Blythe says the Chicago convention is "epicene." Counting Heney, it is also obscene and then some.

SLAIN PIRATE HAD CRIMINAL RECORD

Leonard Hammond Once Sentenced to Ninety Years for Robbery.

STOCKTON June 21—Leonard Hammond, the pirate who was killed while holding up the crew and passengers of the Bank C and the Gwendolen San Joaquin river boat here, is an ex-convict. He was sent up for robbery in Madera in 1901 being sentenced to ninety years in the penitentiary. He had a pistol bat with Sheriff Thurman in an attempt to break jail and was shot in the chest through the left chest after wounding the sheriff. Detective Biggs of Sacramento believed that one of Hammond's "pals" was Louis Evans, son of the notorious "bad" Chris Evans.

In addition to the wounds described a part of his left ear is gone and there is a long scar on his head.

The identification was made by means of the criminal records in the sheriff's office. Half-brothers named Butters live at Walnut Grove, on the Sacramento river.

Captain Grissom, who was wounded by the robbers after he had knocked the fellow into the water, will recover.

That Louis Evans left Sacramento Wednesday morning in a red launch with Hammond is the declaration of Detective Biggs. Biggs was in Stockton today to take a look at the dead pirate whom he declares was Hammond.

WAS BAD ACTOR

"Hammond was a bad actor," said Biggs. "I have known him for years. He lived at Oak Park for some time with Eva Evans, a sister of Louis Evans. Eva and her husband separated some time ago. He was a Sacramento baker, but I cannot recall his name. Louis and Eva have been seen in each other's company several times of late. He and Hammond have been pals for a long time."

Sheriff Riecke and other officers left on a fast launch for down river points this afternoon, hoping to locate the launch and find Hammond's companions.

Sheriff Riecke returned to Stockton last evening without having seen the men. It was learned, however, that the ark the three men had been occupying at Hog Slough near Terminus, north of Stockton had been moved. Constable Clark says that Hammond had been reporting to him every month, being out on parole. He and the two others had been fishing for the market in the vicinity for some time. Clark saw the three men in the red launch, and he thinks that Hammond's companions towed the ark up the Sacramento.

Deputy Sheriffs Shurck and Shepard are still out hoping to locate the men.

SELLS INCUBATOR EGGS AS 'JOKE'; ARRESTED

PETALUMA, June 21.—The famous incubator case up again yesterday when R. E. Peters of this city appeared before Judge N. King and swore to a complaint charging J. Adams, an egg candler, with fraud. The defendant was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Rasmussen and later released on $500 bonds.

District Attorney Clarence Lee will prosecute to the last ditch, as recently in Judge Dillon's court a motion was denied to have the defendant held over to the Superior Court. Adams recently sold nine cases of incubator eggs to Peters, and claimed that it was done for a joke, but the district attorney claims that a crime was committed. The case will be bitterly fought.

GRASS VALLEY BANDIT'S VICTIM DIES OF WOUND

PENNSYLVANIA TO BE ENDOWED BY ALUMNI

GRASS VALLEY, June 21.—Evan Lloyd, who was shot by a bandit in a saloon yesterday, died yesterday. Lloyd, by seeing the robber when he attempted to fine up the bartender and patrons of the saloon, precipitated the bale which resulted in the overpowering and capturing of the robber, whose first bullet, however, pierced Lloyd's abdomen.

The robber, who was roughly handled by the crowd, hanged himself in jail cell early Tuesday morning. His body was identified as that of the daring daylight robber who looted the Nevada County Bank in Grass Valley and escaped with $5000 cash in this city May 17.

The suggestion of the $10,000,000 endowment comes from Edgar F. Smith, provost of the university, and George W. Pepper, one of the university trustees. The daring daylight robber who looted the Nevada County Bank in Grass Valley and escaped with $5000 cash in this city May 17.

SANTA CLARA VOTES TO RETAIN SALOONS

SAN JOSE, June 21.—Santa Clara voted yesterday to retain its saloons. The majority rolled up by the "wets" was 160, and the vote polled was unusually heavy. There are 1500 qualified electors in the town, which contains Santa Clara University, and all but eighty of them went to the polls to express a preference.

A feature of the election was the ready signing of the initiative petition for a greater San Francisco, and W. L. Atkinson had charge of the petitions which were distributed bearing the map of the territory. But San Francisco, as far south of the Humboldt bridge, fully 50 per cent of the voters signed on leaving the polling places, according to estimates made up tonight by the interested parties.

A. C. Banc of the Anti-Saloon League and State Senator Ruth of Santa Clara have been the opposing speakers in a series of meetings leading up to today's election.

BUILDS REPLICA OF FIRST PORTUGUESE BATTLESHIP

THE TIOPHO BRAZA, REPLICA OF PORTUGAL'S FIRST BATTLESHIP, WHICH WILL BE IN PORTUGUESE PARADE AT SAN LEANDRO.

Working at night for nearly a year, Frank Periera Brilhant, a West Oakland blacksmith, has constructed a replica of the first battleship of the Portuguese navy which will be used in the celebration in San Leandro June 30, of the Festival of the Holy Ghost.

The Tiopho Braza is constructed with a careful eye to details. The vessel is equipped with a crew, life boats, smokestacks that smoke and caskets that will wreak devastation on a miniature fort representing the enemy.

The festival in San Leandro a week from Sunday will take the usual form of such celebrations. There will be a parade, church, fair and a public dinner, with dances, music and dancing to make up the day. Committees are perfecting the program now.

COMPLETE RELIEF FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have this important advantage over other remedies for stomach troubles. They strengthen the stomach until it is capable of good digestion. This is the most direct and certain way to the complete relief every sufferer from indigestion wants. At the time you are taking the pills you are getting more and more nourishment from your food. This is important, too, for you begin to feel better every way because of this added strength. You will be happily surprised to find that you are getting a hearty appetite, that you can eat food that you relish, without distress, that your headaches are gone, that you are no longer troubled with gas or acid stomach. It is safe to say that nothing else so quickly cures you of stomach trouble as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The experience of Mrs. George E. Williams, 101 Belmont Street, Manhattan, Kans., should convince you of the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People effected a remarkable cure for me eleven years ago. For four or five years previous to that time I had suffered at intervals of from six weeks to two months with what the doctors called acute indigestion. My physician put me on a diet, but in spite of all precautions those spells came on just the same and my suffering was most intense. I could not eat anything at all without distressing pain. It seemed as if there was a knot in my stomach and it was being twisted around. My stomach was so sore that even the pressure of my clothes kept me in constant misery, and at times it was hard for me to breathe."

"Then I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and when I had taken only about half a box I saw they were helping me. I continued to take them until I had used three boxes, and in the meantime ventured to eat things which I had never dared to eat before and found that no ill-effects followed. The pills cured me and I have never had a spell of indigestion during the nine years which have elapsed. I have gained in weight from scarcely one hundred pounds to one hundred and thirty-eight and feel perfectly well. Words cannot express the gratitude and confidence I have in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

TO THE MAN who is still paying on his home and is not just ready to buy a piano the Girard renting plan gives him that much needed piano without forcing his nose to the grindstone.

TO THE FATHER or mother who does not care to buy a piano unless the boy or girl "takes to music" the Girard renting plan allows you to "try" the children out.

TO THE NEWLYWEDS who have other places for their money, are a little unsettled but want a piano to make home happiness, the Girard renting plan solves the problem.

TO THE SHREWD BUSINESS man just locating in Oakland but who has not yet settled in a permanent home, the Girard renting plan gives him a piano without signing the obligation to buy a cheap thump-box on "small payments and big interest."

If you wish to buy a new piano later on you get full credits for the rent paid. No cartage charged if you rent six months. Over 500 pianos comprise our renting stock, the largest west of Chicago. More than 400 of these beautiful pianos are now doing duty in Oakland homes. We have added a great number of pianos to our renting stock and now have more than 120 pianos to select from.

More than 85 per cent of the Pianos bought today are bought on time payments. Buying a Piano on time payments from the Girard Piano Co. is just like going to a good, reliable banker and securing a loan in money equal to the purchase price of the piano.

All reliable bankers charge a small rate of simple interest and a good, honest banker will advise you to borrow no more than you can pay back in good, big payments in as short a time as possible in order that the interest on your loan will not "eat you alive."

We, as RELIABLE PIANO DEALERS, advise the purchase of a Piano along the same lines as the borrowing of money—buy a Piano within your earning capacity—make as large payments as possible and cut down the interest.

The happiest moment during the purchasing of a piano is securing the right and title to your piano. The high grade and the low prices of the Girard Piano Company's pianos make piano buying easy and a pleasure. Convenient terms if desired.

TAPS SOUND FOR VETERAN OF WAR

Francis F. Atkinson, Who Served in Civil Conflict, Passes Away.

The ranks of the "old guard" were depleted in Oakland recently in the death of a veteran of the civil war, Francis Fenelon Atkinson of Company H, One Hundred Second New York Volunteers. Decedent was a native of Philadelphia, where he was born August 19, 1833. He served from the first outbreak of the war till the close. At first he was recruiting officer, after which he went to the front and remained in active service till the close of the war, with the exception of several months spent in Libby prison, the effects of which he carried to his grave. One of his chief characteristics was his intense patriotic fervor.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two sons and four daughters. The funeral services were held Tuesday, June 18, under the auspices of Lyon post, G. A. R. Interment was in the old soldiers' plot in Mountain View cemetery.

MORE TROUBLE ARISES OVER LETTING OF BIDS

San Francisco Firm Withdraws From Contract Alleging Unfairness.

Declaring that bids for manual training equipment in the local high school have not been awarded fairly by the Board of Education, the Eccles & Smith Company of San Francisco, dealers in machinery and tools, last night notified the board of its refusal to carry out contracts for other work awarded it and declared its willingness to forfeit its check covering the required amount of deposit on the bid. The matter has been referred to the district attorney for advice as to the acceptance of the forfeited check and possible acceptance of the next lowest bid for the material without the necessity of re-advertising for further bids.

The matter came before the board last night sitting as the high school committee. According to R. B. S. York, deputy superintendent of schools, the concern bid on equipment for a machine shop, and through an error in computation, on the part of a new clerk, their bid of $403 for the work was entirely too small, the next lowest bid being $639 by C. W. Mirwadel. On discovering the mistake the company attempted to have the bid disregarded. Upon refusal of the board office to do this on the ground that they were not responsible for mistakes made by bidders, the company, which had not previously complained at other portions of its bids and awards, declared its stand in the following letter, which was

were to be filed with the clerk of that our firm was awarded contract for group No. 8 of these bids. Inasmuch as we were lower in our bid on other machinery called for in this bid, and were not awarded contract for the same, although our machines came up to the specifications demanded, we do not care to fulfill any part of this bid and will therefore forfeit our check which was enclosed with our bid. We do not consider that the bids were awarded fairly, and under the circumstances do not care to bid on anything of this nature in the future.

(Signed)

ECCLES & SMITH COMPANY

F. F. BODLER,
Assistant Manager

Denials of any unfairness in making awards were made by Secretary of the Board McClymonds, by Assistant Secretary York and by W. A. Tenney, in charge of the manual training work at the high school. The latter declared that the articles on which the Eccles & Smith Company bid lowest were not according to specifications.

TERMED WELCHERS.

"The company made this mistake of nearly $200 on one part of their bid," McClymonds declared, "and are now trying to wring the whole affair and lay the blame on us."

"The check in question is for $60," Tenney announced, "which is 25% of their entire bid. The company would rather lose that amount than to carry out the contract as awarded to them and lose possibly $200."

On unanimous vote of the board the entire matter was referred to the district attorney's office for consideration.

The general plans for the new manual training and commercial high school, to cost in the neighborhood of $600,000, were also considered by the board and adopted in general. Certain alterations will be made in the working plans to give larger rooms for study than first called for in the drawings as submitted by Supervising Architect Donovan to the board on Monday night, but these will not alter the general architectural scheme of the buildings. Donovan appeared before the board at the meeting and consulted with the members over the suggestions to be incorporated in the working plans.

The matter of fire escapes on various buildings throughout the city were also considered. A representative of the Kitter-Pender escape presented drawings of their outlet, to the board for installation in Sweet school Intermediate No. 1. The members of the board were divided over the safety of various escapes and stairways, finally agreeing to inspect escapes installed at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley for consideration in the equipment of other school buildings in the city.

DREDGE RESUMES WORK ON SITE FOR FAIR

Craft Returns to San Francisco Bay Shore After Being Repaired Here.

UNEXPECTED WIND SHAKES UP VESSELS

2100 Tons of Structural Steel Arrive for New Kahn Building.

Repairs to the San Francisco Bridge company's suction dredge, John McMullen, were completed today at the United Engineering yards and early this morning was shifted across the bay to the San Francisco side to resume the work of deepening the water front near the site of the 1915 exposition. The McMullen with its auxiliaries, consisting of a barge, cook house, and several dredge pontoons, for the past week has been at the local yards undergoing cleaning, painting and overhauling.

The McMullen was launched about two months ago from the local yards of the San Francisco Bridge Co. and immediately began work on the 1915 fair site. Operations had hardly started when a shaft snapped. The dredge has been absent from the San Francisco job for several months.

The dredge Oakland took its place.

WIND RAISES WAVES

The light west wind which began yesterday afternoon developed into a gale in the afternoon hours, creating havoc among the small tugs engaged in towing. The Lambourne launch Rob Roy, while anchored off the Alameda Avenue, was driven ashore, however, and sank. It was having a bad time of it until she was taken in tow by an Oakland Launch and Tugboat Co. tug and shifted to more favorable position on the Oakland side.

Several yachts dragged their anchors and it was only after considerable trouble that they were put into sheltered positions. Numerous skiffs were capsized, the heavy seas washing their moorings but no great damage was reported.

Twenty-one hundred tons of structural iron arrived here yesterday, prepared for the construction of the new Kahn building. The barge was brought in under tow by the tug Hercules and had considerable difficulty in getting along the waterway. Three heavy lines parted during the operation but after a few minutes the barge with its heavy cargo was safely put into position. The cargo of steel is the first to arrive by water for the Kahn building. It was shipped from New York and was carried by an American-Hawaiian steamship company steamer from the Atlantic coast.

Carrying a bumper cargo of poles, the schooner Fred E. Sanders, Captain Ekin, arrived here yesterday after a six days' run from the Orient. The windjammer while on the San Francisco wharf ran aground off the Hyde street wharf and it was only after the tide

HOTEL MANAGER IS HOTEL MEN'S GUEST

Victor Reiter Guest of Honor; Flower Fete Is Projected.

Victor Reiter, as manager of the new Hotel Oakland, was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by the leading hotel men of the east bay region at the Saddle Rock cafe. The affair was held to welcome Reiter to the city after his years of association with the Palace and Fairmont hotels in San Francisco and to establish a working spirit of harmony among the local men.

John B. Jordan of the Hotel Athens and president of the Oakland Hotel Men's Association was the informal toastmaster. Others present were Edward T. Maples, secretary of the Northern Hotel Men's Association and editor of the Western Hotel Reporter of San Francisco, Wilber Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange Club, As. A. Peniston, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Noah Gray of the Hotel Shatto, Berkeley; Louis Aber, Hotel Crillon; Ernest Adams, Hotel Adams; Henry C. K. Routledge, M. Marks and E. J. Greenhead.

The dinner was entirely informal, the guests discussing local hotel problems and projects for future publicity work in connection with the city. Among the plans tentatively outlined is one for the holding of a three-day flower festival in Oakland with phases of advertising for the city throughout the state. It is proposed to enlist the aid of the railroads in the scheme and to make the festival a periodic one which will give the city a country-wide reputation for its beauty and climate.

Personal aspects of the dinner were the exchange of hotel experiences and the extending of congratulations to Louis Aber, manager of the Hotel Crillon, on the tenth anniversary of his connection with the hotel. He is today celebrating the tenth anniversary of the occasion when he entered the hotel as a bellboy, at which time John B. Jordan, the official host of last night, was clerk in the same hotel.

JOY AS A HEALER

JOY AS A HEALER

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1911, Lillian Russell)

THERE are people who regard emotions as signs of weakness. Great physicians are the authority for the statement that emotions help us through many of the greatest difficulties of life. The emotion of joy has saved more than one life. Cases have been written up of invalids who have been helpless for years, jumping out of bed and running at the alarm of fire. In cases where an army has been victorious in war, their joy has made them far less sensible to their wounds than those of the vanquished army. Military triumph causes men to forget pains. The emotion of joy in such cases defies disease. It is the beaten army that succumbs to pain and the ravages of epidemics.

No matter how ill a person may be let a sympathetic doctor full of confidence enter the room, speak hopefully and joyfully to the patient, give a few words of encouragement, and he will recover more rapidly than those who are victims of a disagreeable physician who is pessimistic. Hope and joy are the emotions that heal sickness. We should all bear in mind, we who are well and happy, that sympathy does not cure pain or illness. Hand a crying baby a red rubber ball and it will forget to cry while it is laughing with joy at the brightness of it. A 10-cent doll will give great joy to a sick little girl and make her happy for hours.

Have you ever given a few fresh flowers to a dear old lady? Then you know how much joy you can give by doing that little kindness. The sweet smile that illuminates her beautiful old face is proof enough that you have given her joy and made her forget for the moment her sorrows, if she had any. It is our duty to give our best advice and encouragement to those who are less fortunate than ourselves. By doing so we can spread the joy of healing among our own friends, at least, and make the world better by our having been in it. Even in a desperate case it is no sin to give a word of joyous encouragement to a sick person, whether it be true or not. Remember: Shed joy, not sorrow, wherever you find yourself, is a sacred duty.

It is hard for one to dye one's hair properly, and hair that looks touched up is worse than if it were streaked with gray. If you care to have your hair dyed I would advise you to go to a reliable beauty shop and have it done by an expert. I am sure you would be better satisfied with it.

HOPKINS IN THE SHADOW OF STATE'S PRISON

MAJORITY VOTE HIM GUILTY OF FELONY; PROSECUTORS CONCENTRATE ON THIRD TRIAL

Justice to Triumph, Says Champion of Decency

Thirteen out of twenty-four jurymen have voted to convict W. W. Hopkins, proprietor of the Hoffman den, at 432 Seventh street, of a brutal theft, and a majority of those who have upheld civic decency in Oakland have voted to convict "Hoppie" of grand larceny, a felony, punishable by a sharp head and stripes in the state penitentiary.

Thus stands the situation at the close of the second trial of the man who boasts a pull with the city officials, and dares them to revoke the license that permits him to outrage the city's respectability.

The third trial will start as soon as the district attorney's office is prepared.

Deputy District Attorney Phil Carey is not at all discouraged at the miscarriage of justice. He believes that he will yet secure a jury that will vindicate the city's name and teach Hopkins a lesson that will deter his ilk from engaging in any more attempts to debauch young girls and lure youths into a spider's web.

"No matter how much money it costs," said Carey this morning, "this prosecution will go on. The taxpayers of the city can well afford to spend money in such a cause, for it has at stake the purity of our boys and girls and the triumph of civic decency over criminal corruption."

EARLY CITY'S GRATITUDE.

Carey and A. A. Rogers, by their splendid stand in this case and the earnestness of their prosecution, have earned the gratitude of the community and compelled public recognition of their efforts to wipe out the stain upon the city's shield. Letters of congratulation and personal assurances of support from prominent men and women have poured in upon them since the battle was undertaken.

VOTES ON GRAND LARCENY.

Evidence introduced by both sides in the second trial was submitted to the jury with the court's instructions at 5:40 yesterday afternoon. The twelve men deliberated until 10:40 p. m., when they reported that they had been unable to reach a verdict and were discharged.

The first ballot taken stood six to six on the grand larceny charge and at no

CHIEF DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY PHIL M. CAREY.

Phil Carey Is Roused by Outrage to Public

OAKLAND TRIBUNE was criticised for its attitude against the Hoffman cafe and its proprietor.

AND WHY NOT?

"THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE is anxious to see Hopkins convicted," said Attorney McDonough. "And the policy has affected great many other people."

"Suppose it is true that the OAKLAND TRIBUNE is fighting for a conviction in this case and that it has influenced the people to a large extent," replied Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey, in the closing argument. "Is that not all the more reason why the defendant should be convicted—when so many people feel that way about it?"

The defendants went to greater pains during the second trial to get witnesses in his behalf and several who had been interested spectators during the first trial appeared on the stand to testify for the defense yesterday.

Among these were Otto C. Kuerzel, 619 Fifteenth street, and William E. Mitchell, 1621 Jefferson street, secretary of the cafe company. He testified to hearsay evidence.

HER SAVINGS GONE.

Hopkins was charged with having stolen in the purse of Thelma Buckingham, a girl entertainer in his cafe, and to have brutally attacked the girl in a restaurant box when she tried to withdraw from his rapacious grasp her pitifully small savings.

In the trial which closed yesterday, the prosecution was able to corroborate the story of Thelma Buckingham by the testimony of Rose Bundock, her roommate, who swore that when Miss Buckingham returned to her room on the night of the trouble she was "crying, nervous and excited and her finger was bled from a fresh wound."

It was also testified that Miss Buckingham's hip was black and blue and that the girl told her the bruise was received when "Hoppie" threw her to the floor of his gilded palace.

"Give me a jury of men not callous from too close knowledge of the tenderloin and I will convict this man and place him where he belongs," declared Assistant District Attorney Carey.

Stahl denied having been guilty of other and similar offenses, but the postoffice people say they have evidence that the carrier has been tampering with registered mail for several months, and they will ask for an indictment next week at the hands of the federal grand jury.

GUN WIELDED IN ARREST OF POSTMAN

Federal Employee, After At-fesses Crime.

Opened Registered Letter and Made Use of Check, According to Admission.

Frank L. Stahl, an Oakland letter carrier, was this morning placed under arrest in the local postoffice at the point of a revolver, and subsequently in the city jail he confessed to having rifled the contents of registered mail.

The arrest was made by Postoffice Inspector Jesse Roberts, who was compelled to bring his revolver into play twice when the letter carrier tried ineffectual dashes for liberty.

Stahl had been in the local department for six years, and has a wife and children living at 2203 Adeline street. According to Postman Paul Schaefer, the letter carrier has been under surveillance for some time, and last Tuesday he resigned from the service as a result of the rigid inquiry that was instituted against him.

This morning Inspector Roberts took Stahl before the postmaster and questioned him concerning a registered letter addressed to Mrs. Louise Carrington that had been consigned to the carrier six weeks ago, without having reached its destination. Stahl protested that the record books would not show him as delivery, and started towards the rear mailing room, ostensibly to get the books. The inspector, becoming suspicious, followed Stahl and was just in time to see the latter make a sudden dash for the street.

CARRIER PURSUED.

Roberts drew his revolver and ran out on Broadway in pursuit, calling upon the carrier to stop or be shot. The threat proved sufficient to halt the fugitive and Roberts took him back to the postmaster's office. A few minutes later Stahl made another dash for liberty, but again he was overtaken when the inspector covered him with a revolver. After that Roberts took no further chances, but handcuffed Stahl prisoner and took him to the city jail.

Boehm, who bars the letter carrier, weakened and acknowledged that he had opened the letter in question and found that it contained a check, which he made use of. Stahl denied having been guilty of other and similar offenses, but the postoffice people say they have evidence that the carrier has been tampering with registered mail for several months, and they will ask for an indictment next week at the hands of the federal grand jury.

The officials of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will arrive on a Western Pacific special next Tuesday evening.

The officials of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet this official train and accompany the officers to San Francisco. A delegation from the bay cities will also meet this train en route.

The Northern special train from Ohio has 100 delegates and the Illinois special has a party of 130. Both trains are due in San Francisco June 24, at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Geo. C. McCoy, president of the Northern District, will meet this delegation in Truckee, when a reception will be given by the Truckee Improvement company.

The next stop will be made at Sacramento for one hour. Automobiles are to meet the train and take the visitors to the Tuesday Club's new home, where a reception will be given.

Mrs. McCoy and others will accompany the delegates to San Francisco. Flowers and fruit are to be given to all incoming trains.

Club women who are to attend the convention June 24 in the Pavilion, corner Sutter and Pierce streets, San Francisco, will register at Biennial headquarters in the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

The reception committee for July 2 are to consist of a number of flowers.

MAN HUNT IN OAKLAND STREETS

Fugitive Leaps From Auto and Endeavors to Escape Among Crowds.

Private Detective Draws Revolver and Halts Fleeing Man.

In a sensational automobile chase through the streets of Oakland, in which A. F. Andrews of 50 Kearny street, San Francisco; Deputy Sheriff Bert Brown of Oakland, Isidore S. Laboritz, a private detective, and several members of the Oakland police department took part, W. L. Brock of 573 Eighth street was captured at the point of a revolver after dodging through several stores and hiding in a small alcove of a stairway over Smith Brothers' store, Thirteenth street. Brock is a real estate salesman, and is said by Andrews to have passed a check upon him for $350 when he did not have sufficient funds in the bank to meet it.

Brock will be turned over to the San Francisco police by the Oakland authorities this afternoon, and Andrews, who is a jewelry dealer of San Francisco, declares that he will swear out a warrant for his arrest.

According to Andrews' story to the police, Brock purchased from him a diamond ring valued at $300. Brock gave a check on the Berkeley National bank for $350, paying $20 in change and the ring in return.

Andrews went to Berkeley this morning to cash the check, and was told that there were not sufficient funds in Brock's account.

Taking an automobile, Andrews rushed to Brock's address in Oakland. Brock had just left and was on his way to take a train for San Francisco. The pursuers overhauled him just as he was boarding a Key Route bus on Twelfth street and Broadway, and induced him to take a seat in the automobile.

The party had proceeded only a short distance toward the police station when Brock made a leap for liberty and disappeared in the street crowds. An automobile manhunt followed, the machine careening around corners and traveling through the traffic-clogged streets at a rate exceeding the speed limit.

Brock dodged through several doorways and several large department stores, but finally made his way to the office building above Smith Brothers' store. He was running through a hallway when Isidore S. Laboritz, a private detective with offices in the building, met him. Laboritz drew a revolver and leveled it at Brock, ordering him to halt.

Holding his man covered with the revolver, Laboritz called for assistance. Deputy Sheriff Bert Brown arrived on the scene and Brock was again taken into custody and turned over to a patrolman of the Oakland department who had joined in the chase.

D. WARFIELD FINDS PLAY IN REAL LIFE

Actor Impressed by Case Which Reminds Him of "A Grand Army Man."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—David Warfield, the eminent character actor, here on a vacation, assumed a dual role this morning—that of the Good Samaritan—while he was visiting Judge Shortall's court as a spectator. Warfield is a brother-in-law of Ballif Joseph. Brock and Warfield were listening intently to the proceedings when in real life there was enacted before him almost the duplicate of a scene from one of his great plays, "A Grand Army Man."

The drama was as follows: Hermann Littleton had come here from Superior, Wis., with $78 in his possession. The money dwindled away to nothing. He obtained a position as solicitor for a magazine. He made some collections. He was hungry. He used to beg for a meal. He was arrested and today he faced the judge.

So impressed was Warfield that he offered to pay the man's expenses home as well as his defalcations. If the judge would let him go, Probation Officer Nichol was instructed to investigate and the matter was taken under advisement.

"It reminded me of the scene from 'A Grand Army Man,'" said the actor afterwards.

COURT RULES AGAINST DARROW

John R. Harrington Ordered to Give Testimony in the Bribery Case.

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—Judge Hutton ruled against the defense on the challenge of John R. Harrington's eligibility as a witness in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow. Harrington's testimony will be limited to that pertaining to alleged crimes in which he participated with the defendant. Harrington resumed the stand.

The question before Judge Hutton was whether or not Harrington, a Chicago lawyer, occupied a position in the employ of Darrow which would preclude him from giving testimony against his former chief. The state law prohibits the disclosure of professional confidences by any attorney without the consent of his client, or any revelation of similar nature by the secretary or clerk of an attorney without the consent of the employer. The defense in the Darrow trial challenged Harrington's eligibility as a witness, setting forth as grounds the entire clause of the statute.

Doubt existed.

Judge Hutton stated that were the McNamara case on trial the position of the defense would have been invulnerable, but as Darrow was on trial in the case of the First State Bank of Bokhito early today aroused residents of the town. Having armed themselves, the citizens gave battle to the robbers.

Eight charges of dynamite used by the bandits exploded with cash estimated at $3000. Two citizens were wounded.

All of the fires have originated in positions where it is possible to get a stream of water on them only by first crawling along the steel girders running under the bridge floor. The time consumed in doing this would probably result disastrous. To prevent anything of this kind happening, workmen are at work today constructing "stairways" every few yards so that it will be possible should another fire break out to take but a few minutes to get a stream on it. The fires far have almost completely undermined the entire bridge floor and it is feared that the flooring will soon be in need of strengthening. The origin of the fire is not known, although it is believed that careless persons while crossing the bridge threw their cigarette ends on the planking, which soon started a smoldering flame.

FIRES START ON WEBSTER BRIDGE

During the past few days nearly a dozen fires have broken out on the Webster street bridge. Late yesterday afternoon a blaze was discovered eating its way along the under floor. The United Iron Works was not on and several workmen were immediately dispatched to extinguish it. It was only after an hour's hard work that the blaze was finally put under control. During the interval it was burning the base ate its way over a space a yard wide and several yards long.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—While fifty primary pupils looked on, helpless to aid her because of their youth, and while some of them screamed for help and cried out in fear, James O'Hearn, a laborer, chased Mrs. Mary E. Belding of the Marshall school around the recitation room, shouting, striking her repeatedly with a long strap. The screams of the girls and the shouts of the boys, who were told to restrain their unruly pupils, attracted the attention of a number of spectators on the street and finally resulted in the arrest of O'Hearn by Sergeant De Gute. He was charged with battery.

O'Hearn is employed by the Southern Pacific Company, residing at 878 No street. He has five children and commented that the teacher was making an effort to influence them to attend a religious school. From an investigation briefly held by Police Judge Sullivan this morning, it is thought that the man may be insane and he was sent to the Densmore Hospital, situated in Berkeley in order that alibis may be given an opportunity to examine him.

The assault on Miss Belding has been the second one committed in the neighborhood since the occurrence.

"I am going to get you now," is what the teacher said. O'Hearn told her just before making the attack.

Bailey appeared while the classes were in session and walked into Miss Belding's room. He began to accuse her, and when she replied struck her on the shoulder. Terrified, the teacher tried to run into the corridor, whereupon O'Hearn pulled out a switch and ran several times in the course of her flight. He was released on bail last night and appeared in court this morning, where he told his side of the story. Miss Belding and the teacher both stated that they were afraid that O'Hearn might repeat his performance of yesterday and after a short investigation the judge held the battery charge in abeyance until such time as the insanity board may make a report.

Forced by his wife for nearly four years to get up in the morning and cook his own breakfast or go to a restaurant, Frank Foster of 1225 Forty-first avenue has finally asserted himself as favoring single life and today filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Vierge Foster. As an extraordinary circumstance in connection with the proceeding, he said that his wife had humiliated him frequently. On one occasion, while he was admiring their new-born son, she told him "to leave the child alone," he charges.

One night while he was asleep he discovered that his wife prodded him with a hot iron so that he awoke next morning to find his arm swollen to such an extent that blood poisoning had set in which caused him to bed for nearly three weeks.

The limit was reached one day when he stopped his brother-in-law in the street and took him to see the baby. He said that he stooped over to kiss the little one and the mother denounced him, saying:

"I have a man in Melrose; he is not very young, but I will live happy with him," all of which greatly humiliated the father.

MORAN

Same Old Corner—S. W. 11th and Broadway

BERKELEY, June 21.—Intimation was made at the city council meeting this morning by Commissioner E. B. Norton that the paving of various little used streets in Berkeley in the past has been brought about by city engineers to whose desire it remained when they were working under the fee system. Norton made no reference to the small paved streets in the intention of a number of pedestrians on the street and finally resulted in the arrest of O'Hearn by Sergeant De Gute. He was charged with battery.

O'Hearn is employed by the Southern Pacific Company, residing at 878 No street. He has five children and commented that the teacher was making an effort to influence them to attend a religious school. From an investigation briefly held by Police Judge Sullivan this morning, it is thought that the man may be insane and he was sent to the Densmore Hospital, situated in Berkeley in order that alibis may be given an opportunity to examine him.

The assault on Miss Belding has been the second one committed in the neighborhood since the occurrence.

"I am going to get you now," is what the teacher said. O'Hearn told her just before making the attack.

Bailey declared he could not say.

"Well, isn't it at least true?" Norton persisted, that the intention to pave the streets came from that source?

Bailey again confessed lack of information in the matter and it was dropped. Baileys objection to the proposed weed ordinance was that it would work a hardship on the holders of cheaper lands throughout the city that need not, according to his belief, be cleared of weeds.

He recommended an alteration of the proposed ordinance to necessitate the pulling of weeds only 25 instead of 150 feet from residences, with a greater width in hillside sections, and abrogating the ordinance's force where there were no cement sidewalks.

His recommendations were referred to committee of the whole.

Communications were received by the council from the Southern Pacific, advising that it had cleaned weeds off certain of its properties. At the request of F. A. Hugill, superintendent of grounds of the University of California, John Behrend was appointed a special police officer.

OAKLAND WATER RATES FOR COMING FISCAL YEAR TO REMAIN AT $1.50 MINIMUM, COUNCIL DECIDES

Company Asks for Increase, Declaring Present Returns Do Not Pay Proper Interest on the Investment

Water rates for the coming fiscal year, 1912-13, will remain identical with the schedule of the last two years. The city council last night gave initial passage to an ordinance continuing the present rates for another twelve months.

The ordinance was passed after a lengthy secret session in the office of Mayor Frank K. Mott, and it was announced that the council had decided to continue the present schedule as a means of avoiding expensive litigation.

The minimum rate of $1.50 was have been lowered by the city council in accordance with the wishes of Mayor Mott, it starts to justify this in the court, and has been obtained from the company. A lowering of the rates by the city council would have meant the voluntary abrogation of the Pendleton-Titus agreement of 1908, which has protected the city from court action by the water company since that time. The agreement arranged a gradual reduction in rates up to June 30, 1911, and provided that the company should ask for no increase after that date if the rates then in effect were less than $1.50.

To keep within the agreement and avoid litigation, the council a year ago continued the rates then current. Similar action was taken last night. Former litigation had cost the city over $400,000. The Pendleton-Titus agreement saved water consumers in three years over $300,000 by gradual reductions in the rates.

Within two weeks the movement to create an inter-municipal water district of several cities will have and operate a water supply system will be launched in Oakland under the recent metropolitan Water district legislation.

In the hope of lowering the minimum, Mayor Mott and members of the advisory municipal water supply committee had gone over figures presented by the Peoples water company, and had come to the conclusion that the minimum rate could be lowered while still permitting an adequate return to the company on the capital investment. It was specifically determined to lower the minimum rate, thus breaking the Pendleton-Titus agreement.

If it could be established that an adequate return would be provided, the council would have been safe in lowering the rate, as satisfactory defense could have been made in court in case of the inevitable litigation threatened by President Frank G. Hayes.

The council asked for certain figures that would make it possible to place the city on safe ground in this matter. The company replied that the figures could not be supplied as the computation would entail too great a task for the office force.

DOCKWELLER'S REPORT. Engineer J. P. Dockweller, city expert on water works, went ahead and obtain the figures which the company experts refused. Working from the time of closing the offices of the Peoples water company till after 2 o'clock every day, he studied and an exhaustive study of the books of the company and it was on the basis of his report last night that the council voted to continue the present rates.

"Our water consumers have saved the city thousands of dollars," declared Ben H. Pendleton, chairman of the advisory municipal water supply committee, and former president of the city council. "If we do not continue the rates we have to defend our action in court, and from the figures compiled by Dockweller, it is established that we could not have succeeded in this. The suits would have cost us."

"As all we have remained strictly by the terms of the agreement. The figures show that while the total annual receipts of the company in the past period from 1908 to 1911 have increased over 10 per cent, the operating expenses have increased 35 per cent. The anticipations of the company in this regard were not fulfilled and at a meeting of fact under the circumstances entered into in 1908, its governed rate reductions since that time, the company's net receipts have not been commensurate with the increase in expenses."

REVENUE FALLS OFF. The use of meters has been largely effective in reducing the consumption of water per consumer and has thus made great changes in the figures of the company. According to Dockweller's statement, the savings have been due to the extensive use of meters, which does not consume water, which is felt in the present year for the first time.

Dockweller made a careful estimate of the receipts for the past six months of the year 1912, and then figured the loss to the company that would result from reducing the minimum from the present minimum of $1.50 to $1.40, $1.35, $1.30 or $1.25.

The total estimated reductions in the revenue of the Peoples water company if these reductions should be made as follows:

If the minimum meter rate were reduced to $1.25, $25,792.00.

If the minimum meter rate were reduced to $1.30, $38,830.00.

If the minimum meter rate were reduced to $1.35, $48,900.00.

SECRET SESSION.

The council met in special session early last evening and immediately went into secret session with Chairman of the Water Committee, Frank G. Hayes, Mayor L. E. Dockweller and Assistant City Attorney Charles Beardsley, leaving the representatives of the water company to await with patients for two hours, the return of the councilmen.

On resuming the session, Mayor Mott asked if the water company had any additional evidence to present, or any statement to make. Engineer George Wilhelm, formerly of New Edward W. Engs was called for the Peoples water company. Engs spoke as follows:

"Our claims in this matter are all before you. I desire to call the council's attention at this time to the fact that the present rates are neither fair nor right nor adequate. I will quote to you from our statement filed with the council in May 1911. In this we point out that it is no longer possible for you to pursue the present method of determining the value of the physical structures of the company. The recent Supreme Court decision makes it essential and necessary and imperative that the company shall receive from the city an allowance for structural depreciation. We demand a $196,000 last year for this item, and it is our protest that it was not allowed. This is an actual loss to the company and we should have an allowance for structural depreciation.

"It is our contention that if an adequate and fair return is to be made us on the capital invested, the rates must be increased. Our net income for the past year, after deducting operating expenses and taxes and structural depreciation, was only $478,309. This means that we did not receive an adequate return."

MOTT'S STATEMENT.

Mayor Mott then introduced the ordinance, with the following explanation:

"The council has voted to continue the rates as they stand."

"We have remained strictly by the terms of the Pendleton-Titus agreement.

"The water consumers have saved the city thousands of dollars," declared Ben H. Pendleton, chairman of the advisory municipal water supply committee, and former president of the city council. "If we do not continue the rates we have to defend our action in court, and from the figures compiled by Dockweller, it is established that we could not have succeeded in this. The suits would have cost us."

'OLD HARVARD' BEATS YALE TWICE

Fifty Thousand Spectators See Thames Regatta Go to Crimson.

Freshmen and "Varsity Four" Win Annual Struggle for Barge Supremacy.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21—The crimson of old Harvard fluttered triumphantly today in the first two events of the regatta with Yale, rowed on the Thames in the presence of 50,000 spectators.

The Harvard freshman crew won from the Yale "baby" boat by two lengths, and the Harvard "varsity four" pulled into a one-length lead over their rivals at the start and were never headed, winning easily by 10 lengths. The official times for the freshmen race was Harvard 10:52, and for Yale, 10:54 1/2. For the varsity race the time was given out as Harvard, 11:24, and Yale, 11:52.

In addition to the thousands who lined the banks, there were in evidence 400 yachts and a couple of thousand motor cars.

The weather was ideal. There was scarcely a ripple on the upper reaches of the Thames when the four-oared crews slipped into their rowing boats for the forenoon races. Below, near the start of the first race at the drawbridge there was not breeze enough to float the hundreds of blue and red banners and parti-colored signal flags which adorned the yacht masts.

Two score commissioned and warrant officers from three revenue cutters moved about the course in power-boats, becoming more and more rigorous with the crowds as the time approached for the freshman race, the first on the day's sporting schedule.

The two observation trains were filled when they started out for the river banks.

DAMAGES IS FILED

Suit for $20,000 damaged emanating out of an irrigation suit and irrigation ditch in Merced county two years ago was filed today by H. F. McKey against A. L. Sliman and T. H. Cavin.

It is alleged by plaintiff that the irrigation preventing him from using water from an irrigation ditch had been obtained for the purpose of ruining his 320-acre crop of corn and beans and that as a result he had lost the crop, which he valued at $12,750.00. He further avers that he has spent $6000 in litigation.

Seven Great Pianos From Seven Great Makers

Hundreds, yes, think of it, hundreds of our keenest buyers have bought beautiful new pianos this week. Many of your friends, several of your neighbors have done so. They'll tell you what complete satisfaction there is in participating in this present great piano-selling plan.

Don't put off coming. San Francisco and Oakland piano buyers have been quick to buy these pianos of standard make at $165, $186, $233 and $158, and at the lowest terms ever offered—$1 down and $1 a week. A dollar a week looks easy. It is easy! Remember, we don't charge the big retail price that you are expected to pay elsewhere. Our prices to you now are less than what small dealers pay the factory for the same high grades. It's like buying wholesale, when you buy now. Forty different styles to choose from. No mystifying conditions.

And payments only $1 down and $1 a week. A child can buy one! Come this afternoon, this evening, or first thing to-morrow. The pianos are displayed on five floors throughout our big Eilers Building, 975 Market street.

We agreed with seven of the Nation's foremost manufacturers to sell 574 brand-new, warranted, latest-make pianos. They are high grade, strictly warranted; 82 pianos from each of the seven piano makers. Each factory shipped four carloads.

These far-sighted piano makers know that hundreds of new families are daily coming to California. They know that by distributing these pianos now, even though netting them but little profit, they will secure an immense future business. And because there are so many pianos to be sold in such a very short time, Eilers Music House handles each instrument upon the smallest imaginable margin for profit. Hence these prices. Hence these terms. When these are gone, there'll be no more. Therefore, we repeat: GET YOUR PIANO NOW. Bring $1 and pay $1 a week.

BARS EXPLOSIVES UNTIL JULY 4TH

San Francisco Chief of Police Hears Complaint From United Railroads.

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—Not only in San Francisco to have a safe and sane Fourth of July so far as fireworks are concerned, and not only has gunpowder been strictly tabooed, but the torpedoes and the torpedo canes are also to be forbidden up to the actual day of the celebration.

Chief of Police White has received more than a score of complaints against dynamite torpedoes and indiscriminate use of caps and canes. The chief complainant in the United Railroads, a protest from which corporation is to the effect that many cars have been damaged to such an extent that they will be entirely dismanted as the result of smacking torpedoes against them.

A few days ago the Chief issued an order requesting officers to be vigilant and see that the torpedoes and canes were rightly used, but today he issued a sweeping mandate ordering all officers to inform store keepers that no more torpedoes or canes must be sold until the Fourth of July. This is the most radical measure ever adopted in this city, but the chief declares that the lives of the people and the protection of property are first to be considered.

MANY TO COME BEFORE PEOPLE

Twenty-two Superior Judges Will Be Voted on in September.

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—Twenty-two Superior Judges, 80 Assemblymen, 20 State Senators from the odd numbered districts and 11 Congressmen are to be voted upon at the state primary election September 8, at which nominations will be decided for the general election November 5, according to data compiled yesterday by Secretary of State Jordan.

In addition to this nominations are to be made for different local county, district and township officers in the several counties of the state whose terms have expired or where vacancies are to be filled.

The 22 Superior judges for whom successors are to be nominated by the various parties at the September primaries are:

Alameda county, John E. Ellsworth, Frank B. Ogden; Fresno county, George E. Church, H. Z. Austin; Kern county, John G. Covert; Los Angeles county, George H. Hutton, Frederick W. House, Paul J. McCormick, Walter Bordwell, James C. Rivers; Madera county, William M. Conley, Edgar T. Cook; Riverside county, T. E. Densmore; San Bernardino county, Benjamin F. Reddick; San Joaquin county, C. W. Norton; Shasta county, J. E. Barber; San Diego county, W. A. Sloane; Tulare county, J. A. Allen; San Francisco, J. V. Coffey, William P. Lawlor, E. P. Morgan, Thomas F. Graham.

The Assembly, Senatorial and Congressional districts will be those defined by the new legislative apportionment. Tuesday, September 8, the date of the primary election, will be a legal holiday.

Regarding the selection of Presidential electors, Secretary of State Jordan says:

"Party Presidential electors for President and Vice-President will be selected by convention of the Congressmen, together with the Senators whose terms of office extend beyond January of the next year ensuing. This convention will formulate the state platforms of their party. They shall also elect state central committees to consist of at least three members from each Congressional district, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. This convention is to meet at the State Capitol on the fourth Tuesday after September primaries."

The Edith is the first steamship to report trouble with the ice in Bering sea this summer, the passenger liners Victoria and Senator, which came through ahead of her, entering no difficulty.

This mysterious blank column, discovered yesterday on the printer's proof of the ballot, is a decided innovation.

It has nothing to do with the regular and common garden variety of blank spaces that have adorned ballots in the past.

The regular empty column is on the ballot, but beneath it has been added another, an interloper.

It is of paramount importance to an independent candidate. By the proper petition, signed by at least 3 per cent of the electors of the state, the independent can secure a place on the ballot because of this extra column. Should the Republican state committee of California decide that Roosevelt, for instance, is the regular Republican nominee, then Taft, or whoever else might stand in opposition, could take advantage of the extra space. The column might also bear the name of a new party, such as "The Progressive," "The Bottom," "Steam Roll," or "Hadley's Hope." The possibilities of the blank and elastic space are limitless. If Roosevelt organized a new party he could put it in the blank column. How it came to be inserted in the ballot, possibly long before the Chicago convention opened and before the California delegation left the state, is shrouded in mystery.

"Did anybody know what was going to happen? Was the bolt and the break planned weeks ahead? Did Governor Johnson drop you a hint?"

To these and other direct questions Zemansky laughingly shook his head.

BLANK COLUMN LEFT ON BALLOT

Was It Foresight or Hint From Powers That Be That Was Responsible.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Remarkable foresight on the part of Registrar Harry Zemansky, or perhaps a hint from the powers that be in the state Republican party, has provided a blank column in the ballot for the presidential election in November, thus allowing the injection of a third or new political party candidate.

Zemansky smilingly denied yesterday the suggestion that the extra blank column on the ballot had been added on a "tip" from Governor Johnson, nor would he say that the responsibility lay with the republican state committee. Apparently the registrar felt the way the wind was blowing some weeks ago and provided for a "bolt" and other Chicago emergencies, including two Republican nominees for president.

This mysterious blank column, discovered yesterday on the printer's proof of the ballot, is a decided innovation. It has nothing to do with the regular and common garden variety of blank spaces that have adorned ballots in the past.

Just consider this one FACT: Mr. C. J. Pfrang, one of the largest builders in the bay cities, a man noted for the artistic bungalows he puts up, has bought a block of FORTY-SIX lots in Havencourt, and will start building at once. Mr. Pfrang has studied conditions closely. Nobody knows real estate values better. And Mr. Pfrang, selecting shrewdly and wisely, picks out Havencourt as the MOST RAPIDLY DEVELOPING section anywhere around, and invests nearly $50,000 in one lump. Mr. Pfrang is going to make money. Why should you not make money in Havencourt as well?

The civic center surrounding the Havencourt station of the Southern Pacific Electric offers a splendid opportunity to the investor. Big money will be made here, as there is only a little of this choice located business property. You will never regret it if you get hold of one of these lots Sunday.

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—For the purpose of obtaining an official ruling on a troublesome question, Secretary of State Jordan has asked the attorney-general to give him an opinion whether or not judges of the Superior Courts throughout the state are state officials. This is for the purpose of determining whether or not the judges when elected are required to file certificates of election with the secretary of state and pay the filing fee of that office instead of in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters.

This question comes from San Francisco county, and it has been raised by J. H. Zemansky, registrar of voters. Last year the same question came up and was not decided.

If the judges are state officials they must file with the secretary of state. If they are county officials they must file with the county clerks.

The salaries of Superior judges are paid half by the counties and half by the state.

IF THERE'S LUCK IN BASEBALL, DURBIN HAD IT NOT

Southpaw Had Things Break
Badly All Afternoon Which Explains Why He Lost.

Let us have a little discourse on luck, if you believe such. Luck plays a part in baseball. Figuring that luck is a factor in a victory or a defeat, then Durbin was against young Blaine Durbin and he lost a game of ball to Oakland and to the A's outfit by a score of 3 to 2.

Blaine was the beaver for the Sharpies last Friday. Yesterday at Freeman park and two things broke badly for the youngster. In fact, just bad enough to give the Lemonville outfit a couple of runs.

While the score shows that Dillon's bird meathered a general ring of fire, the truth doesn't signify that Blaine was easy plating. He might have gotten himself into a jam now and then but he had gray matter enough to pull himself out of it, and, in general, was able to him good supper except on rare occasions. But unfortunately those rare occasions brought on disaster.

Again our old friend Jack McCarthy made up his mind to make a stand. He called a strike out at third after Tozer had made about as rank a balk as a pitcher could make. Elmer had reached second on a slightly lame single and started in the fifth inning when he saw Bill begin to wind up while facing the batter. Elmer started for third base. Then Bill turned around and sent the ball to Metzger and Durbin was out.

Under the rules it was a balk pure and simple and everybody on the lot but McCarthy thought so, but when he heard that it wasn't, what was the use of all the argument. Sharpie, Mitze et al., put up?

Maybe it didn't cut much figure after all, the ending of Elmer out, but then we can see what's going to happen in a ball game.

RELIABLE GUS MAKES A BOOT.

Low Angeles gathered a tally in the opening round and we can lay it onto our old reliable third sacker. Gus Hettling. That didn't mean he made the ball and his hits drove in too many runs and played too nifty a game around third for us to crab, but nevertheless he gave the Angels a nice start when he got the Angels off his back and away from the big town, and bobble giving Howard the initial sack.

Then he moved over to second when Berger laid down a neat sacrifice. Hopeless! Low Angeles' third sacker, Durbin, then homed up to Cook but that hope went glimmering when we saw big Hienle soak the ball to right field for a clean single.

That's all they got until the ninth, when Durbin gathered a triple to center, and then he got a single to short field that Durbin blocked out and couldn't hold. That made three all told for the day and just enough to win.

HOW THE OAKS GOT THEIRS.

Oakland sneaked one over in the third because that Lemonville outfit played like a bunch of rascals and least some of them did.

Leard took a life on a bobby bobby by this boy Berger and he went to second when the first half pitched far over the left field.

At last we were still one up on the day and it was time to go for the big book as a victory for the southern gentlemen. Here follows the tally sheet:

PLENTY OF ACTION IS PROMISED RING FOLLOWERS

Miller and Kaufmann Meet Tonight. Berg and Petroskey Rapidly Getting to Form.

Fighters shouldn't be finding fault these days, for there is plenty of milling in store for them within the next few weeks.

Following are the bouts that are scheduled to be fought in the roared arena beginning tonight and ending July Fourth.

At 8 p.m. Charley Miller, June 21, at Dreamland Ring. Otto Berg, June 26, at Piedmont Pavilion.

"Red" Watson vs. Frank Burns, June 26, at Dreamland Ring.

Abe Attell vs. Tommy Murphy, July 4, at Daly City.

Those cards all the way through there should be plenty of milling in each of them. Tonight's bout between Kaufmann and Miller is but a four-round affair, but in those four rounds, there will be enough fight enough to last a dozen rounds. Those fighters have hopes and ambitions. Kaufmann, a one-time contender for the crown of heavyweight champion, is getting his chance to get into the limelight again and he realizes that if he slips up his ticket will read to Ashcanville direct and he will even be passed up by the so-called amateur promoters.

On the other hand, Miller is ambitious to get into the fast and furious ring.

"Miller has been looked upon as a dub for many moons but for all that he has been winning right along and winning well. He may not be as good as any and a whole lot better than many of these so-called white hopes. Anyway, just watch Miller."

Added to this main event tonight will be a six-round bout between Berg and Petroskey.

Net on the program appear the names of Sailor Ed. Petroskey and Otto Berg as the top liners of the show that the Fairvale club will stage at the Oakdale. W. M. Moore, manager, is assisted by Matchmaker Al Moffit.

Right now it wants to go down in the books that the fans will miss a good scrap if they forget the date of this mill, June 26.

Berg Petroskey. They are both skillful workers around a gym and there is no doubt about either having ever entered a ring in anything but the best of condition.

The same conditions now prevail and two fighters never worked harder to be fit than these two.

While the bout cannot be classed as a championship affair, it is there should be plenty of milling from top to bottom.

Miller has changed his mind about Pitcher Klawitter and after the game yesterday admitted that he was a mighty weakling.

Gavin Fitzgerald showed some more of his old time liberality in the form of three walks in one inning, and when he was aided by Ralph Kreitz, who was enroute to San Francisco, he got in the run column.

This pair came in the first two innings. Only one of them got around to second base in the last seven innings of the week by a 5 to 2 score. It was all done in the first three innings.

'GOOD ROADS' IS CONVENTION TOPIC

County Delegates Attend California Development Convention in San Jose.

Under the auspices of the Beulah Park Camp Meeting Association a ten days' meeting was begun last evening at the camp ground on the Dimond car line in East Oakland. The first service was held in the auditorium at 7:30. Rev. S. M. Woodward, pastor of the San Leandro Methodist church, conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. L. H. Baker of Berkley, pastor of the Methodist church at Windsor, was leader of the singing and will so continue during the entire camp meeting. A brief address was made by Dr. A. J. Hanson, pastor of Golden Gate church, secretary of the Methodist Church Extension Society and president of the Beulah Park Camp Meeting Association, outlining the plans of this year.

Former Governor Gillette is presiding over the session. Good roads and the need for them is the main subject of the speeches. A. B. Batchelder, chairman of the American Automobile Association, New York, to deliver this afternoon an address on a national system of interstate roads.

Other speakers are John F. Mitchell of Los Angeles, President C. C. Moore and President of the Board of the Motor Car Dealers' association.

Fred G. Athearn, chief of the bureau of economics of the chamber of commerce of Sacramento, gave a lecture on the means of advertising and the exaggerated tone of the circulars sent through the east by the various local development boards.

The vast majority of the expenditures made by trade for promotion work is worse than wasted, because the public need not be told on fundamental human tendencies; second, because of indulgence in exaggeration, over-statements — circus advertising. In short, the work departs from the straight and narrow path of truth.

COMMISSIONERS DIFFER.

The success of any institution depends absolutely on whether or not that institution caters to, or gives opportunity for, the expression of some fundamental basic needs of society. There is no room for that which does not something better, or that has not something better, than people want or that people should have, than some other community is commanding. The purpose of the thing it can do or the things it can produce is not only confirming a benefit upon itself but upon others as well.

If I should offer a criticism of the promotional work done in California today, it would be to the effect that it tells of a climate that is all sunshine and no rain; for that it is not true; and no where there is a plainer case of and no doubt that it is a soil that produces the biggest things in the world, and where there is never a crop failure. This kind of promotional work does infinite harm for it gives us the reputation that Californians are the biggest liars on earth, and I don't know that we haven't earned a reputation as liars by and large. We can raise more crops of a better class, than any community in the United States. Then why not state the facts no more, no less?

MUSHROOMS NEW PIEDMONT CROP

PIEDMONT, June 21.—Chairman Craig of the board of trustees, on behalf of the city, has started a mushroom farm at either end of the big bridge across the Oakland creek. There is a vaulted room 60x30 feet and 20 feet high. This space has been considered several times, the board wishing to utilize it for something. It was suggested that it be used as a gymnasium, but on investigation this was found impractical. Several other suggestions were made and abandoned, and it remained a question for the chairman to turn it into a mushroom farm.

He feels certain that it will be a remunerative venture. The city gardener has already begun the work, and a fine crop of mushrooms will soon be on the market.

CHECKS WERE DISPUTED.

G. M. Marks, a piano salesman, was held to answer for trial before the Superior Court this morning on a charge of having passed a fictitious check on E. A. Adams, who runs a saloon at 1503 Broadway. Marks is charged with uttering a $50 check, and it is alleged that several other checks cashed for him were bad. The defendant is held by order of

BANEFUL 'RAG' IS UNDER BAN

HAYWARD, June 21.—The city fathers, sitting as a board of censors on modern tendencies in the gentle art of dancing, decided yesterday that the steps known as the Texas Tommy, grizzly bear, turkey trot and bunny hug, indulged by the younger generation, must be discontinued within the city precincts. Furthermore, the trustees are ready to sit on the old proxy and instructed officers to stay on duty at pleasure grounds and places resorts on Sundays and holidays where "ragging" is said to have been indulged in by visitors from other towns.

The resolution putting the ban on the latest in dances was introduced by Trustee J. D. Armstrong, the last addition to the board. When the question was put to the board there was not a dissenting voice. Trustee Armstrong was 88 years old at his home on Tuesday. He was a member of the Dante Society of St. Helena, in which city he lived before coming here. The dead man is survived by a widow and the following children: Charles, Mary, Columbus, Peter, Domenic, Joseph, Giuseppe, Raymond, Guido and Manette Crenna.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF CONCORD IS DEAD

CONCORD, June 21.—The funeral of the late Pietro Crenna will be held here from the family residence later followed by the shipment of the body to St. Helena, where interment will take place in the St. Helena cemetery.

Crenna, who was a native of Italy, aged 88, died at his home on Tuesday.

CHEKS WERE DISPUTED.

G. M. Marks, a piano salesman, was held to answer for trial before the Superior Court this morning on a charge of having passed a fictitious check on E. A. Adams, who runs a saloon at 1503 Broadway. Marks is charged with uttering a $50 check, and it is alleged that several other checks cashed for him were bad. The defendant is held by order of

BIDS TOO HIGH DECLARES WALKER

Local Business Men at Conference Discuss Home Industry.

At a conference arranged last night by the Manufacturers' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce between Peter J. Walker and the local contractors and material men, the subject of purchases of home industry and other relatives between local contractors and builders called to give Walker an opportunity which he had expressed a desire to have to discuss his alleged failure to favor local men in awarding sub-contracts.

Walker went into a careful analysis of conditions here, announcing that he had failed to show the bid of every local contractor on every bidding created by him in Oakland since the fire of 1906. He declared that local men did not bid on big contracts, as shown by the fact that buildings costing in the neighborhood of $100,000, the proportion of contracts let to San Francisco and Oakland men was 144 to the latter and 33 to the former, whereas in class A structures, the proportion was 61 to San Francisco and 26 to Oakland. He cited the work on the Oakland Hotel and gave figures on the various contracts, showing that if he had awarded the work to the Oakland men who bid on it, the building would have cost exactly $12,000 more than its present cost.

The speaker further pointed out the weak spots in bidding which used strengthening to meet larger requirements, commanding those firms whose growth indicated ability within a short time to cope with the largest structural problems that are bound to occur hereafter.

Following Walker's discussion, M. Z. Hadley, chairman pro tem, called upon representatives of local firms to discuss the matter. Among the speakers were H. K. Zelmer, representing Kahn Brothers, who outlined briefly the firm's attitude in the construction of their new building, affirming their desire to have the best and at the same time to use local material and labor.

Other speakers were Supervising Architect J. N. Donovan, John L. Howard Jr., representing the general material men, J. H. Peasriff, representing the Contractors' association, T. G. Buswell, E. Williamson, Oliver S. Orrick Jr., for the paint manufacturers; A. E. M. Prevalin, representing the master painters; William Cavasso, representing the glass dealers, N. Davis of the Van Emont Elevator Company, George Dixon of the master plasterers, Robert Howden of the tile men, G. B. Waddell of the lumber men, Marcus Lafe, J. G. Phillips, J. T. Lee and E. L. B. Zimmerman.
